Two American Climbers Carry Stars And Stripes To Summit Of Mt. Everest

Highest Peak Is Conquered By U.S. Team

Radio Messages
From Base Camp
Give Few Details

By ALAN M. KENNEDY
KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) —
They made it!

Two Americans have carried the Stars and Stripes to the summit of Mt. Everest, the world's highest mountain, more than five miles above sea level.

Messages reaching Katmandu
Thursday night said the pair, climbing to jet-plane heights, reached the top at nighttime May Day, Wednesday, right on schedule.

The identity of the two Americans was not announced pending the return of other teams of the American expedition headed by Norman G. Dyhrenfurth, 44, of Santa Monica, Calif.

Radio messages from the base camp gave only the barest details, saying the assault was successful.
Hillary First In 1953

The first successful American
New Zealand' Sir Edmund Hillary became the first to reach the summit. He and the native mountaineer Tensing Norgay stumbled to the top May 28, 1953.

Mt. Everest, 29,028 feet high, towers over the mystic Himalayas which straddle the border of Nepal and Tibet. Temperatures at the peak hit 50 below zero. It is encrusted with ice and snow.
A dozen men have perished in attempts to conquer Everest. One of them was a member of this expedition.

Two Swiss teams reached the top in 1956. Red China reported an expedition of its own climbed the peak May 25, 1960, but international mountaineering circles have refused to accept this for

Sir Winston's Retirement Saddens Britain

LONDON (AP)—In Parliament, in business offices and in the streets, Britons sadly reflected Thursday on Sir Winston Churchill's decision to retire from the House of Commons.

Described as fit, Sir Winston, 88, sat in his London home receiving telegrams from all over the world. Among them was a message from the White House.

On the village green in the London suburb of Woodford, represented by the great wartime leader in Parliament, there is a statue of Sir Winston.

People paused and looked up at the statue. Some took off their hats.

"This is a great loss," said bank clerk Harold Jameson, 42.
"I voted for him always. He will always have a very special place in Woodford even though he retires."

Said Ralph Bennett, 50, an insurance man: "His memory will live as long as that statue." Ethel Harp, 60: "Although I'm sorry to see him go I think it's time he looked after himself. We won't get anyone like him again.
He's a wonderful man and I've always voted for him."

Blaming an accident last year when he fell and broke his hip, Sir Winston Wednesday told his constituents in Woodford that he would not run again for Parliament. He said it was difficult for him to get around.

With the Liberals showing increasing strength in Britain, a Liberal candidate—as well as a Laborite—would probably have opposed Sir Winston at the next general election, which must be held by October 1964.

Hope Renewed For Laotian Agreement

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)— Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma flew to the Plain of Jars with a party of truce officials Thursday and conferred with pro-Communist leader Prince Souphanouvong. He expressed optimism afterward on prospects for settling the new Laotian crisis.

Souvanna told newsmen on his return to Vientiane that the critical situation in this Southeast Asian kingdom was "entering a constructive phase" toward restoration of peace.

The premier was accompanied on the flight to Khang Khay, in the Plain area, by four staff officers of neutralist Gen. Kong Le, whose troops have been involved in fighting with Souphanouvong's Pathet Lao forces.

It was the first direct contact between neutralist and rival pro-Communist officers on the Plain since new fighting erupted early last month.

Souvanna was also accompanied on his flight to the Plain of Jars by officials of the International Control Commission and Russian and British diplomats. The Russians and Britons were there in accordance with their countries' functions as co-chairman of the 1962 Geneva agreement on Laos.

Rusk Flies To India After Pakistan Talks

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred Thursday with Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan on the Kashmir dispute and then flew to India where he will meet Friday with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

Informed sources here said Rusk was making a final attempt to bring the two sides closer together before their negotiators hold a sixth and possibly last round of meetings
May 15.

Rusk declined comment on what he would discuss with Nehru, and no announcement was made after his talks with Ayub in Karachi. But he had indicated Wednesday he would take up the Kashmir dispute and the issue of Western arms aid to India with the Pakistani leader.

Labor Crisis Erupts In W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)— West Germany's worst post-war labor crisis erupted Thursday into a strike and lockout affecting a half million metal industry workers. The government intervened to try to keep it from spreading.

President Heinrich Lübke and Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, destined to become chancellor this fall, met with top labor and management leaders seeking a solution.

The metal workers, demanding an 8 per cent pay boost, called out 100,000 workers in spot strikes throughout the key industrial state of Baden-Wuertember Monday.
More than 400 employers who had offered a 3.5 per cent pay boost, countered by shutting down their plants, locking out another 400,000 workers.

The metals industry is the key to West Germany's remarkable post-war growth. Aides said Erhard was concerned lest the labor trouble imperil the country's hard-won foreign trade position.

Auto makers, including the huge Volkswagen works, announced they will have to close next week if parts suppliers are cut off.

Guard Killed In Prison Riot

MONTREAL (UPI)—Inmates at St. Vincent De Paul prison rioted Thursday night for the second time in less than a year. Convicts stabbed a hostage guard to death with a kitchen knife and two inmates were shot, one fatally.

Warden Marcel Lecour ordered the cellblock stormed when the convicts began stabbing the captured guard.

The rifle and riot gun-armed guards shot two of the convicts in a pitched battle that was over in minutes. Order was quickly restored.

The guard and convict killed in the riot were not immediately identified. The other convict wounded in the riot was hospitalized in serious condition.

Haiti Crisis Taking On Gloomy Look

Brazil, Italy,
U.S. Concerned Over
Diplomatic Abuses

By HENRY RAYMONT
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti
(UPI)—The United States and Brazil sharply protested to Haiti against abuses of diplomatic immunity Thursday as the internal crisis here took a new and serious turn.

Italy also expressed official concern to the Haitian Foreign Office over violations of traditional diplomatic rights by Haitian troops and militia patrolling Port Au Prince streets and manning road blocks.

Both the American and Brazilian complaints involved the halting and searching of diplomatic vehicles by heavily armed Haitian troops.

U.S. Ambassador Raymond Thurston protested the halting of an embassy car by troops in downtown Port Au Prince at dawn Wednesday, and the forcible search of embassy first secretary Robert Hill.

Forced From Car

Thurston protested that Hill and the driver of the embassy car were made to step out in the street from the vehicle with their hands in the air. A shot was fired while Hill was being searched, the ambassador said, but no one was hurt.

The Brazilians protested through Charge D'Affaires Milton Ribeiro against the search of an embassy car by heavily armed Haitian troops stationed at the gate of the embassy residence.

The protests were the latest in a growing number of incidents between the Haitian government and the diplomatic community here. Violation of traditional diplomatic rights by Haitian troops and militia patrolling capital streets and manning numerous roadblocks has caused the foreign diplomatic corps to hold four emergency meetings in Port Au
Prince within the last five days.

Haitian Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers was reported to have termed the general atmosphere of nervousness a natural aftermath of last week's assassination plot against the family of President Francois Duvalier.

Situation Explosive

In Washington, the State Department accused the Duvalier regime of inflaming the situation in Haiti. It described the situation in the tiny Caribbean country as "potentially explosive." The State Department warned Americans against "unnecessary travel" there.

Diplomatic sources here said that after an attempt on the life of Duvalier's two teen-age children in Port Au Prince last week, government forces went on a wild shooting rampage. They said Latin American envoys who had granted asylum to an estimated 100 Haitian political refugees had requested Ambassador Thurston to request the help of U.S. naval forces in the event Haitian troops broke into their embassies.

Express Concern

A fact-finding committee of the Organization of American States sent here to ease Haitian-Domi-can tensions ended a three-day inquiry into the dispute and left late Thursday for Santo Domingo, en route back to Washington to report.

Prior to its departure, team chairman Alberto Zuleta Angel cabled OAS council chairman Gon-zalo Facio that it was concerned over the fate of Haitian refugees in Latin American embassies here.

Over 450 Negro Students Held In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —
Police arrested more than 450
hooky playing Negro school students Thursday as waves of racial demonstrations engulfed downtown Birmingham.

The Negroes—aged 6 to 16—marched toward City Hall, paraded on downtown streets and picketed major department stores.

Several thousand curious white persons and Negroes watched from behind hastily set up police lines.

Firemen laid out high pressure hoses in a two-block area as one large group of Negroes surged downtown. The hoses were not brought into play. Police dispersed the throng with little effort.

There was no violence.
A group of 20 Negro students slipped by police lines and marched to City Hall. They were arrested within 15 feet of the steps.

They knelt to pray, with eyes raised to the 10-story stone structure—a major objective of the month-old demonstrations.

At least 10 groups converged on City Hall from all directions.
School teachers shouted encouragement to the hymn-singing students as they were arrested. A 6-year-old girl was in one of the groups.

At least 10 adult Negroes were arrested for failure to move on the order of an officer. All the marchers were taken to city jail and charged with parading without a permit. Some were sent to a juvenile detention home.

Another leader, the Rev. Fred
L. Shuttlesworth, head of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights, said the demonstrations would continue "until we run out of children."

Jets Collide, Pilot Killed

KINGSTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Two jet fighter planes flown by test pilots collided and exploded Thursday, killing at least one of the fliers. The other was missing.

An Air Force spokesman said the wreckage of one of the F-105 jets was found near the Ashokan Reservoir northwest of here. The wreckage of the second plane was believed to have fallen in the reservoir.

The body of one pilot was found in the wreckage near the reservoir. The fate of the other flier was not immediately known. A spokesman said parachutes had been sighted after the collision about 5:30 p.m. EDT.

President Welcomes Nation's Top Heroes

By ALVIN SPIVAK

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy Thursday honored some of America's greatest heroes—the Medal of Honor winners—at a glittering military reception on the White House lawn.

The 234 who accepted invitations inscribed their names on the roll of valor in combat actions ranging from the Spanish-American War to the Korean conflict.

They included Maj. Gen Charles E. Kilbourne, at 90 the oldest of them all. When told at the Washington nursing home where he lives that he would meet President Kennedy, he commented "The hell you say."

The occasion was the President's annual social salute to the military services. But it was the first time since taking office that Kennedy has held a reception for the Medal of Honor winners.

The two-hour long reception, on the south lawn of the White House, was one of the most colorful events of the White House social season. Military in its trappings, it featured entertainment by an Army fife and drum corps wearing Revolutionary War uniforms and a performance by the killed Air Force bagpipe band.

Invitations went out to 293 Medal of Honor winners and 234 accepted. Two of those who could not attend were Gen. Douglas

"Spies For Peace" Spill More Info

LONDON (UPI) — A ban-the-bomb organization called "Spies for Peace" spilled some more of Britain's nuclear defense secrets Thursday.

A new pamphlet claiming to pinpoint the headquarters of a string of underground government centers which would run Britain in case of nuclear attack was distributed to newspapers.

The typewritten pamphlet described the exact location of the London headquarters and detailed its layout. It said this center would control communications with the underground bunkers throughout the country.

Only one newspaper printed the information. Others complied with a government "D-notice" — a request to newspapers not to publish secret information.

Maryland Patrolman Is Victim

Prince Georges Co.
Man Shot; Arrest
Made Last Night

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—State police captured a 21-year-old Richmond, Va., man Thursday night who was being sought in 13 states for the slaying of a Prince Georges County patrolman early Thursday morning.

Police said they captured Thomas Asbury Hadder as he crouched behind a home near the community of Odenton. An Odenton resident, A. A. Pokorny, called police when he saw Hadder near a gravel pit. Four police cars converged on the area and arrested Hadder.

13 State Alarm

A 13-state alarm went out for Hadder today after the body of Police Pvt. Alfred W. Steinate, 27, was found about 1:30 a.m. at the foot of an embankment along Maryland 3 north of U.S. 50.
Steinate appeared to have been shot in a gun battle with a motorist he had stopped for questioning.

County Police Chief George J.
Panagoulis declined to reveal what evidence or material found at the scene led so quickly to a warrant and search for Hadder.
Other officers indicated that personal papers near Steinate's body had been material clues.

Another county officials said evidence uncovered "is right pleasing to us," although he declined to say what it was.

Prince Georges State's Attorney
Arthur A. Marshall Jr., with Pana-goulis when the latter identified the suspect, said police "have enough evidence for a murder indictment."

On Investigation

Shortly after Steinate, a 6-foot-4 former Marine with one year of service with the county, reported for duty Wednesday night he was assigned to investigate the complaint of a filling station attendant that a motorist had failed to pay for a service call and new tire.

The officer last was seen driving north on Route 3 toward the spot where the motorist's tire was changed.

Panagoulis said Steinate was killed by a single bullet from a
.45 - caliber automatic. Steinate's
.38-caliber service revolver and six expended cartridges were found within 15 feet of his body.
Shortly after dawn searching policemen found a .45-caliber gun, believed to be the death weapon, about 40 feet beyond the slain policeman's body.

Found By Police

Two Anne Arundel County police first noted Steinate's car, its motor running and its red dome light flashing, at 1:25 a.m. They radioed for help when they did not immediately locate Steinate. The body soon was located in the weeds at the bottom of the highway embankment.

Steinate's hat and flashlight were found on the front seat of his cruiser. His ticket book and a small briefcase were reported missing. A .45-caliber slug was in Steinate's clothing and a .45-caliber shell in the scout car.

State police held Hadder at the scene Thursday night until Prince Georges County Police arrived.
Hadder was then taken to Seat Pleasant for questioning. Hadder reportedly offered no resistance to police and was not armed.

German Rocket Soars 65 Miles

CUXHAVEN, Germany (UPI) — West German scientists shot a three-stage rocket 65 miles in the sky Thursday and put the country back in the space race.

"I'd call it a partial success—
I meant the thing to hit 93 miles high," designer Berthold Seliger told United Press International.

With the aid of West German army helicopters, Seliger's crew fired the 450-pound, 18-foot-high solid fuel rocket from a lonely stretch of nearby North Sea beach.

All three stages returned to earth by a newly developed parachute technique.

Jugglers Go West

BERLIN (UPI)—Five East German jugglers were reported Thursday to have refused to return to their Communist-ruled homeland following an engagement in Vienna.

The "Information Bureau

telligence organization, said the jugglers were members of a group known as "The Wallastrons."

Castro May Be Key Figure In Russia-China Dispute

LONDON (UPI) —Behind the Khrushchev - Castro smiles in Moscow, a crucial inter - Communist bloc battle is being waged that may determine the course of the Sino-Soviet dispute.

Fidel Castro is, wittingly or unwittingly, currently a key figure in the conflict. Whichever of the two opponents—Russia or Red China — manages to win him over to its side will have scored a major point in the current struggle.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has seized the initiative by inviting Castro to Moscow in an apparent attempt to pacify the irate Cuban leader over the withdrawal of Soviet missiles.

Khrushchev's failure to win him over would strengthen Peking's hand against the Soviet leader's policies of peaceful co-existence.

Red China has exploited the Russian withdrawal from Cuba for sharp attacks on Khrushchev, accusing him both of "adventurism" for putting the missiles into Cuba and of "cowardism" for withdrawing them under American pressure.

"There had been strong indications from Havana that Castro, disappointed at the Russian strategy, had been veering toward the hard line of Red China.

In a talk with a French newsman last month Castro was quoted as having criticized Khrushchev sharply for having failed to consult him at the time of the missile crisis.

Khrushchev's trouble shooter,
First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, spent three weeks in Cuba last fall but ostensibly failed to appease Castro. Nor have repeated subsequent assurances from the Kremlin that it stands by Cuba and would defend it against so-called American aggression seemed to fully satisfy the bearded man from Havana.

The signs are that Khrushchev has now embarked on an all out effort to restore good relations with Castro. A large economic aid program is understood in the making. It will cost Russia a lot as Cuba is almost wholly dependent on outside assistance.

Khrushchev may even go to the length of giving Castro new defense pledges and further military aid.

The Kremlin probably feels Castro's good will is worth a high price. Castro himself keeps Khrushchev dangling by letting it be rumored he may go on Peking.

Richard Nixon Is Moving To New York

Plans To Join Legal Firm

By JAMES DEVLIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Thursday he is changing his residence from California to New York City and joining a New York law firm June 1.

The move raised immediate speculation as to whether he would embark on a renewed political career here eventually although he has disavowed any such intention.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, generally regarded as having an eye on a possible move from Albany to the White House, said he was very happy to welcome Nixon to New York and expressed hope he would become active in politics.

"He is a distinguished American," Rockefeller told newsmen on his way to a luncheon. "I hope Dick Nixon will become active in New York politics."

After the luncheon, Rockefeller put it this way: "I think it's wonderful he's coming here, and I hope he resumes political life. I'm delighted to see Mr. Nixon active in politics again, devoted to public service."

Attacked Administration
Nixon attacked President Kennedy's administration recently in an address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.

Nixon, joining the law firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin & Todd, had said Wednesday night when the move was rumored that he had no intention of using New York as a political base or of interjecting himself into local politics.

He had said further, concerning his law practice plans, that, "When decisions aren't made, you don't say anything."

Nixon's formal announcement of his move here, issued from his suite in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, made no mention of politics one way or the other.

His move had the effect, however, of recasting attention upon him after his defeats for the governorship of California last year and for the presidency in 1960.

Practice Corporate Law

The Nixon statement said: "On June 1, 1963, I shall move my residence to New York City and shall become counsel to the firm of Mudge, Stern, Baldwin & Todd."

"After I have met the six months' residence requirement of the New York law I shall apply for admission to the New York Bar. When admitted to the bar I shall become a general partner in the firm."

"Pending my admission to the New York Bar I shall engage principally in matters relating to the Washington and Paris offices of the firm."

The firm, in the downtown financial district, practices corporation law.

Nixon, who has been in the city several days, reportedly is spending part of his time in house-hunting.

The former vice president and his family moved last year into a Beverly Hills, Calif., home estimated to have cost in the $150,000 range. Nixon and his wife, Pat, said then they regarded it as their first permanent home.

Elaborate Expedition
The American team left Katmandu Feb. 20 with 19 American climbers and scientists and 895 porters carrying 54,540 pounds of food and supplies.

The expedition reached an assault position at 27,800 feet Tuesday.

Two assault teams set out for the summit and a third followed in support, rigging lines for the descent.

It was the 15th full-scale expedition to Everest, and probably the most elaborate. The backers, chiefly the National Geographic Society of Washington, D.C., poured $400,000 into it.

The expedition's aim was much more than climbing the world's highest mountain.

A sociologist, medical scientists and a clinical psychologist went along to study man's reactions at such heights.

At altitudes of four to five miles men's minds and bodies undergo heavy physical punishment. It is an effort even to talk or think.

The air is thin, the winds are fierce and cold, and the footing treacherous.

With radios, Dr. William S. Sirr, 43, of Berkeley, Calif., studied the effects of the stresses on the climbers and the effects on the adrenal glands, which help to regulate the heart beat.

The psychologist, Dr. James T. Lester Jr., 34, of Berkeley, Calif., kept a day-by-day record of any psychological changes in the men.

Dr. Richard M. Emerson, 37, of Cincinnati, Ohio, carried a tape recorder to preserve the conversations of the climbers to be analyzed later.

Of the 19 members of the expedition, three are medical doctors and five hold Ph.D.s.

The team was selected from more than 150 candidates on the basis of their ability to act as a team. They practiced for two weeks climbing Mt. Rainier in Washington State last fall.

A radio blackout Wednesday held up word of the successful assault.

Note From Sulphur Queen Crewman Could Be Hoax

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Coast Guard reported Thursday the finding of a note allegedly written by a crewmember of the missing sulphur carrier Marine Sulphur Queen, but said it thought the note was a hoax.

The Coast Guard said the note, containing the words "SOS Sulphur Queen. Help," allegedly was found by a Pedro Serrano of Corpus Christi, Tex., in a bottle on Spoil Island in Laguna Madre, Laguna Madre is a large body of water along the southwest Texas coast separating several islands from the Texas mainland.

The Coast Guard said suspicions of a hoax were aroused when Serrano could not produce the bottle. Serrano claimed he broke the bottle to get the note, the Coast Guard said.

The Coast Guard said it is making tests to determine if the note written on torn brown wrapping paper could have come from the Marine Sulphur Queen which disappeared last Feb. 3 while en route from Beaumont, Tex., to Norfolk, Va.

In addition to the SOS, the note contained a crude drawing of the Gulf of Mexico, Florida, Cuba and a ship in the Florida Straits.

On the reverse side there was the message, "Our ship was sailing steadily. Suddenly there was an explosion. Two men were hurt. This is all I have to say because I am getting . . ." The message ends there.

The Sulphur Queen, a former oil tanker which had been reconverted to a molten sulphur carrier, was carrying 39 men when it disappeared. The only trace of the missing vessel has been the finding of life jackets and an oil can with the words "Sulphur Queen" stenciled on them, and a broken piece of wood with the letters "Arine Sulphur" on it. The broken piece, oil soaked and singed, was found on a beach near Miami.

President Substitutes For Jackie
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy spoke at a ladies' luncheon Thursday as a substitute for his wife, who he said was "engaged in increasing the gross national product in her own significant way."

The Chief Executive dropped by for about five minutes at the affair held by the Congressional Club, an organization of wives of congressmen and senators.

The Chief Executive, whose wife did not attend because she is expecting a baby in August and has cancelled official engagements, said he was there "not so much as President but as the beneficiary of very effective support," from Mrs. Kennedy.

He said that having been a member of the House and the Senate he was aware that the wives of lawmakers make many important contributions to the careers and well being of their husbands.

"Congressmen and senators constantly feel they are sacrificing everything for the public good," Kennedy said, "but the people who are really sacrificing are the wives of congressmen and senators."

Debt Bill Passes

The House Ways & Means Committee approved a bill seeking to boost the legal national debt limit to a record $309 billion during July and August. The bill also would boost the temporary ceiling, currently at $305 billion, to $307 billion through June 30.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace denounced the killing, but served notice he will not permit memorial "freedom walks" through his state. Wallace has accused the walkers of trying to "ballyhoo" Moore's death for their own gain and has said such demonstrations constituted a breach of the peace.

Estes, who in his heyday put several Negro youths through college, drove up in a car containing three Negro men and two children.

Shouts Taunt Estes
As he was shaking hands with the marchers, an old model car drove by and someone shouted: "Nigger lover."

Estes continued to talk with the group for about five or ten minutes, then climbed back into the car, hoisted one of the children onto his lap and the car drove away.

Truman Plans New TV Series

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman announced Thursday he will do a filmed television series dealing with the major events of his administration.

Truman said the series will consist of 26 shows, of 30 minutes each. The series will be produced by a motion picture company, but the date for broadcast has not been determined.

"The primary reason for my desire to make this series—and it's a very burdensome undertaking—is that I feel the role of the American people during World War II, and through the reconstruction period after that war, needs to be told from the point of view of the Chief Executive," the 78-year-old former president said.

Of the group that accepted invitations, 144 served with the Army, 43 with the Navy, 10 with the Air Force, and 37 with the Marines.

Greek Princess To Give Birth

MADRID (UPI)—A spokesman for Spain's royal house said Thursday it is "probable" that Princess Sophie of Greece, wife of Don Carlos who some day may be king of Spain, is expecting a baby.

43.8 Million U.S. Catholics

NEW YORK (AP)—There are now 43,851,538 Roman Catholics in the United States, an increase of 969,373 over last year, according to the official Catholic Directory issued Thursday.

There are now 28 archdioceses in the United States, with a Catholic population of 18,669,040. The establishment of the new diocese of Fairbanks brings the number of dioceses to 120 with a Catholic population of 25,182,498.

The 28 archdioceses reported a growth of 130,875 and the 120 dioceses 818,497. The seven archdioceses with Catholic populations in excess of one million are Chicago, 2,293,900; Boston, 1,733,620; New York, 1,704,350; Newark, 1,512,311; Los Angeles, 1,477,408; Detroit, 1,429,670, and Philadelphia, 1,263,625.

Post Office May Continue Saturday Mail Deliveries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department said Thursday it would be able to continue Saturday mail deliveries if it gets $64 million of the $92 million cut from its 1964 fiscal budget by the House.

A Senate appropriations subcommittee voted late Wednesday to restore all but $28 million of the House cut. The full appropriations committee is scheduled to meet Friday to take up the subcommittee action.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day had said that mail deliveries to new buildings, Saturday deliveries and other services would have to be cut beginning July 1 if the slash voted by the House was not restored.

In a statement Thursday the Post Office Department said it was "most appreciative of the understanding of the seriousness of our budget situation and the potential consequences of the cut in mail service which is reflected in the subcommittee's action."

However, a spokesman said, the action does not effect an order already sent out to the nation's 68 largest post offices to halt all new hiring until July 1. This order went out after the House approved a cut of $8 million in the department's supplemental appropriations requested for the current year through June 30.

Because of the "freeze" on hiring until July 1, postmasters in the nation's largest cities are expected to curtail all service to new buildings until they are 80 per cent occupied.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 Pass 1 Pass
1NT Pass 3NT Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: Five of ♠. In his haste to develop an extra trick in the club suit, declarer in today's hand failed to consider his primary goal which was the development of nine tricks. The outcome was a one trick set that could have been avoided by a coordinated plan of campaign.

The bidding was fairly routine and, against the three no trump contract, West opened the five of clubs. The jack was played from the North hand which brought forth in turn East's queen and declarer's king. A club was returned at trick two and, when West played low, the nine was successfully finessed in dummy.

The nine of hearts was led and permitted to ride around to West's king. A club continuation forced out the ace, and South attempted to reenter his hand by leading up to his king of diamonds. West produced the ace, however, and, after cashing his high club, he exited with the jack of spades. With only one entry left to his hand, declarer could no longer continue a profitable development of the heart suit. He switched his attention to diamonds therefore in the hope that North's long card in the suit would produce the ninth trick.

A diamond was led to the closed hand and the ace of hearts was cashed. A diamond to the jack brought forth the bad news that the suit did not split evenly, and South was obliged to throw in the towel. Since declarer had available two tricks each in spades, diamonds and clubs, he should have bent all his efforts toward developing three more in hearts which involved nothing more than driving out the king and queen of that suit. In order to conserve entries to his hand, it is essential to put up dummy's ace of clubs at trick one. After the first heart finesse is taken, declarer is able to get back to his hand twice—once in clubs and once in diamonds—in order to drive out the other heart honor and then run the established suit.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

What Have You Done For Your Feet Lately?

You probably take you feet pretty much for granted. Unless they ache, or you have injured them, they're just those rather uninteresting appendages down there. All they're good for is — merely to transport all the rest of you wherever you want to go! With summer exposure drawing near, it may be high time to do a few favors for your pedal extremities. Not only to reward them for services rendered, but so that they won't disgrace you at the beach.

If, instead of merely ignoring your feet, you've actually been punishing them by wearing tight, uncomfortable, ill-fitting shoes — they probably are showing severe ill-effects. There's only one remedy: Change to comfortably fitted footwear. It will do as much for the pain-line in your face as for the corns and bunions on your feet.

Pay more attention to your feet during daily bath. Scrub them thoroughly with a hand brush — and old tooth brush will serve. Because foot perspiration is trapped by stockings and shoes, the feet easily develop rough, dead skin areas. Take care of these by rubbing with pumice stone, in a gentle, rotary motion.

Particular attention between the toes will help to avoid fungus infections. As important as cleanliness: keeping the feet as dry as possible, since fungus thrives on warm, damp skin. This means careful drying after you bathe. If troubled by excessive perspiration, dusting with antiseptic powder will help. Try massaging with rubbing alcohol before applying powder. A good foot powder can be made by mixing 10 per cent boric acid with ordinary talcum.

As you dry your feet after a bath, push back toenail cuticle. You may wish to apply hand lotion for rough skin. If you're sure you wish to apply nail polish, go ahead — but colored your feet, so they'd better be in excellent shape! This is an area of personal taste; I believe it's better judgement to skip polish, or use only natural.

Looking toward summer activities, you'll want to work on figure improvement. "How Much Should You Weigh?" It depends on your age, height, bone structure. I've written this booklet to help you aim at the correct weight for YOU. You can obtain a copy by sending 10c and a self addressed, return envelope with your request to me, John Robert Powers, in care of this newspaper.

U.S. Stands Ready With Firm Action If Cuba Exports Men Or Arms To Haiti

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States would take "appropriate action" if there were evidence Cuba was shipping arms or men to Haiti, a State Department spokesman stated. He added there is no such evidence now.

Department Press Officer Lincoln White said he had no information supporting recent Dominican Republic charges and press reports to the effect that Haitian President Francois Duvalier might be making secret arrangements with Communist nations.

These have included charges that Duvalier might offer bases to the Cubans and that he was dealing

Trade Pact Signed

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — A Poland-Red China trade agreement was signed here Tuesday, the Polish press agency announced.

ing secretly with Czechoslovakia and Poland.

There was a Czechoslovakian trade group in Haiti March 6-12, but officials here said it apparently was invited by and dealt with private businessmen in Haiti. Poland has had a commercial attache's office in Port-Au-Prince for more than a year. But officials said that apparently little has resulted from these missions.

White told newsmen "if we had any evidence Cuba was attempting to ship arms, materials or men to Haiti, then we would take appropriate action. The appropriate action has already been spelled out by the secretary of state, the president and others."

President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have both repeatedly said the United States would not permit Cuba to export arms or commit aggression against any of its neighbors.

White was asked by newsmen whether U. S. warships and planes were controlling waters around Haiti against such an eventuality. "I can't answer that specifically," White said.

Two Women Charged In Abortion Case

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Baltimore woman, whose long police record includes abortion and counterfeit convictions, was charged Thursday with manslaughter in the abortion death of a New Jersey school teacher.

The charge was placed against Mrs. Hilda B. Williams, 61, Hermaid, Miss Dorothy L. Hill, 34, also of Baltimore, was charged as an accessory after the fact in the illegal operation.

Maryland's chief medical examiner, Dr. Russell S. Fisher, has said that death was caused by infection after the operation on Miss Angela Lach, 28, of Sayreville, N.J.

Two other persons, both men, have been charged in the case, and Baltimore area police were searching for another woman, believed to have been the occupant of the apartment where Miss Lach died Monday evening.

The specific charge against Mrs. Williams is manslaughter by performing an illegal abortion. Miss Hill was accused of assisting Mrs. Williams in performing the operation.

The two men were charged Wednesday with conspiracy to perform an abortion and with being accessories before the fact in manslaughter.

They are Solomon Goodman, 55, operator of the Two O'Clock Club in Baltimore's downtown honky-tonk district, and Ernest Fieni, a traveling salesman who gave a New York City hotel as his address.

Production-Line Calves

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Eight or 10 high-grade calves a year from a single cow is possible by transferring embryos, according to Dr. E. S. S. Hafez of Washington State University. Embryos, he says, could be removed from high-grade cows, stored in freezers, then transferred to ordinary cattle for the remainder of the gestation period and birth.

Snyder Seeks Postmastership At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — State Sen. George E. Snyder, D-Washington, announced Thursday he is a candidate for appointment to the Hagerstown postmastership.

His action brought to 10 the number of persons seeking the post which will be vacated at the end of May by the retirement of Postmaster Thomas Simpson. The job pays $8,600 a year to start, but increments raise the salary to $11,000 or $12,000.

"I did not seek public office with the plan of looking for another position of responsibility," said Sen. Snyder, who is serving his second term in the Maryland Senate.

"The decision was not an easy one to make but I feel my qualifications and training in business and government service warrant consideration."

Snyder, 34, is the owner-manager of a wholesale ice cream business. First elected to the senate in 1958, he was named one of the five outstanding young men of Maryland in 1959 by the Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Among other applicants for the position are Democratic Mayor Winslow Burhans of Hagerstown; former delegate Herbert W. McElwee, who resigned from the House of Delegates last month and announced he would seek the job; two members of the Washington County Democratic Committee, John E. Corderman and Leonard Humelsine, and five employees of the post office.

Maryland Briefs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mayor Philip Goodman turned thumbs down Thursday on a tentative, informal proposal by the Kennedy administration that Friendship International Airport be controlled by the federal government, rather than the city.

"I do not believe the people in this area would receive the same quality and adequacy of air service as if Friendship continued to be operated by local interests," Charles P. Crane, chairman of the Baltimore Airport Board, wrote the mayor.

A bill Sen. Daniel Brewster, D-Md., has introduced in Congress would place Washington National Airport and Dulles International Airport under a new Washington Airports Board. The plan Baltimore rejected would have placed Friendship under the same board.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ways of getting more business for Maryland's 2nd Congressional District will be discussed Friday at a conference of federal officials and Maryland leaders in Towson.

Rep. Clarence D. Long, D-Md., said industry managers, union leaders and members of the General Assembly and Baltimore County Council have been invited.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An escaped prisoner from the Sandy Point Correctional Center in Anne Arundel County was wounded in the hip and captured by police in Baltimore.

The fugitive, Frederick McCoy, 25, of Baltimore, was seen walking along a street by officers. He was shot in the hip after police ordered him to halt and fired a warning shot in the air.

McCoy was treated at University Hospital and released in police custody.

SALISBURY (AP) — State Police arrested a New Yorker Thursday after a seven-mile chase along U.S. 13 at speeds up to 100 miles an hour. Officers said the man had 56 gallons of untaxed liquor in the trunk of his car.

Edward Green, 45, of the Bronx, New York City, was arrested just across the state line in Delaware.

Maryland charged him with speeding and assault with intent to kill, while Delaware charged him with possession of untaxed liquor.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Professor John M. Dennis of the University of Maryland School of Medicine has been elected president of the Maryland chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Dennis, an M.D., heads the school's Department of Radiology. He has been active in the work of the society for the past eight years.

Labor Group Asks Construction Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. J. Millard Tawes of Maryland urged Thursday to launch immediately an investigation of every construction project in Prince Georges County.

The request was made by W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland-District of Columbia AFL-CIO, in the wake of a construction cave-in Wednesday which took the life of Ronald B. Cole, 16, of Laurel, Md. The youth, hired only the day before, was buried in a ditch he was digging for a pipeline at the temporary trophy.

The annual Michigan State vs. Indiana University football game was for the "Old Brass Spittin'" for a pipeline at the temporary trophy.

Gemini Space Program Lags, Official Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The boss of this country's manned space program said Wednesday the Gemini project for putting two men into orbit together has fallen behind by six months or so.

But the official, Brainerd Holmes, rejected a congressman's contention this put the United States two years behind Russia in the race to the moon. He said this country actually may be ahead.

Holmes was questioned by a House space subcommittee about newspaper reports that new difficulties with the Gemini capsule and the Titan II launcher have pushed back until mid-1963 the target date for the launching.

Holmes said it had been decided there was a need for two unmanned test flights, rather than one as previously planned, before two astronauts are hurled into space aboard the Gemini capsule.

He said this might delay the manned shot by six months.

Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., said his calculations show that the United States already is 1½ years behind Russia in the effort to put a man on the moon. He estimated that the new Gemini delay would put this country behind by two years.

"I don't know that we are falling behind Russia," Holmes replied. "I'm not sure we're not ahead of Russia."

Fulton shot back that this was the first time he had heard anybody say that we were ahead in the moon race.

"I didn't say that," Holmes said. "I say that if all they are doing is what they have shown—which I doubt—we're far ahead. But I have no knowledge about what they are doing underground."

Holmes denied what he called "negative" comments on U.S. progress in space and the questioning of the need for such programs. He said many of the critics have not taken the trouble to talk to space agency people about what they are doing.

The total outlay for new construction in the United States set a new record in 1962, continuing the upward trend in construction activity that began in 1945.

Wall Street Views

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street continues to be preoccupied with the question of whether the stock market will be able to surmount its 1961 peak.

Most investment analysts of brokerage houses and advisory services are devoting their market letters to discussions of the subject.

Among them is Indicator Digest, Inc., which advises on investments.

This service says that whether the market reaches a top in its current advance above or below the old high may hinge on several factors. It lists them as:

—A new surge of demand for stocks might be generated by the belief, whether right or wrong, that President Kennedy's attitude in overlooking the steel price increases adds to the inflationary overtones already inherent in his deficit-lined budget, and may set off a chain reaction of further price increases and labor hikes in other industries.

—Avoidance of long delay in passing tax cut legislation — it now looks like October for the Senate.

—An across-the-board improvement in the profit picture without too serious a letdown following the strike-hedge stockpiling of steel.

—No significant weakening in many of the major technical market indicators, such as a whopping reduction in the short interest and a belated surge of odd-lot buying.

The service says that the indecisiveness of some indicators points to a mixed market, the sort where the strong issues keep inching ahead while the rest of the market performs indifferently.

Thresher Probers Plan Unusual Tests

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. (UPI)—The Navy announced Wednesday it would conduct tests aimed at showing what a rush of water would do to submarine equipment in an attempt to find the cause of the Thresher disaster.

Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, head of the court of inquiry investigating the disaster, said the tests would be made on simulated submarine compartments at the Portsmouth shipyard. He did not say when the tests would begin.

The Navy apparently was attempting to find out if a bursting pipe could have disabled the submarine's controls, causing it to drop to the ocean bottom.

Austin's announcement came a short time after Wednesday's scheduled 600-foot test dive of the bathyscap Trieste some 600 miles east of Boston was postponed because of rough seas.

Poll Tax Ban In Balance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chances for ratification of an anti-poll tax amendment to the U.S. Constitution this year hung in the balance Wednesday after the Delaware Senate rejected it.

With ratification by 38 states, or three-fourths of all 50, required for adoption, the proposed amendment has been ratified by 32 state legislatures.

This leaves six states to go with the legislatures in only seven states, including Delaware, still in session. The other states are Maine, New Hampshire, Missouri, Oklahoma, North Carolina and Texas.

Texas is one of five states requiring voters to pay a poll tax and is not counted on by backers of the anti-poll tax amendment for ratification.

Record Drought

HONG KONG (AP)—The worst drought in history has hit this British crown colony.

Thus failure of any one of the other six states to ratify could block adoption of the amendment this year in advance of next year's presidential and congressional elections.

The action of the Delaware Senate could be fatal, but word here was that its vote was subject to reconsideration and might be reversed.

Sponsored by Sen. Spessard Holland last year by more than the two-thirds, the proposed amendment was approved by Congress, senate and the house.

Weather Via Dropsondes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is equipping its jet weather observation planes with new devices which will be dropped in flight and send back data on the weather by radio during a parachute descent to the earth.

The Friez Instrument Division of the Bendix Corp. announced at Baltimore that the pushbutton weather-reporting system is being installed in B47 jets of the Air Force's Air Weather Service.

The code name for the project is "Big Blue." Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Marietta, Ga., is installing the equipment, and Bendix will train Air Force personnel in its use.

H. K. Janssen, Bendix program manager, said sounding instruments called dropsondes will be ejected from the weather plane with parachutes that open automatically.

As the dropsonde descends, it transmits data on temperature, pressure and humidity to receiving equipment in the B47.

This information is combined with data recorded in the plane — aircraft altitude, position, time of day, wind conditions, cloud cover and visibility — and sent in digital form to a computer on the ground.

Janssen said the information thereby becomes available for study by meteorologists within minutes of the time that the observations were taken, compared with the hours of time lapse involved in current techniques.

Two Airlines Plan New Europe Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delta Air Lines and Pan American World Airways asked the Civil Aeronautics Board Wednesday for authority to provide a joint service between New Orleans and Atlanta and Europe.

The two airlines asked permission to make an intermediate stop, at their discretion, at either Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia or New York.

They plan to start the service in October with a daily round trip over Delta's route linking New Orleans, Atlanta and the East Coast, and Pan American's route across the Atlantic.

Pan American jets would be used and there would be four flights a week to London and three a week to Paris.

Soviet Stamps Honor Castro

MOSCOW (AP) — A new set of Soviet commemorative stamps dedicated to visiting Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba was issued this week.

One of them, in black, white, blue and scarlet, depicts Castro, looking like a Civil War general astride a white charger, at the head of a mounted column of armed men. Another shows a crane unloading Soviet equipment at Havana docks.

English, German and Italian are the three largest "mother tongue" groups among foreign born in the United States.

Could Gordon's possibly be older than the London Bobby?

Surprisingly enough, yes. It was in 1829 that Sir Robert Peel reorganized the London Metropolitan Police, who promptly became known as "Peelers" or "Bobbies". But this was sixty years after Alexander Gordon had introduced his remarkable gin to London and given it his name. Happily, the Gordon's you drink today is based on that original 1769 formula. That explains its unique dryness and delicate flavour. Explains, too, why Gordon's is the biggest selling gin in England, America, the world.

Mother-Child Relationship Could Trigger Mental Illness

(Second of a three-part series on mental health)
By DR. HARVEY J. TOMPKINS Consultant, National Association for Mental Health as told to Helena Frost United Press International

The frustration of first love is full of grief. When it happens in early childhood the grief may last a lifetime.

For the first love of all is the child's love for his mother.

When it begins, it is not love as we know the word. The infant, emerging from the twilight weeks of early life, is not aware of his mother as a love object; he experiences her as a part of himself. Only gradually does he perceive and love his mother as a separate entity, even as he seeks and finds his own identity—some time during his third year.

It is second birth: He has been physically detached from his mother, now he accepts the separation emotionally.

All this is normal child development, according to Dr. Margaret S. Mahler, Director of Research at the Masters Children's Center, and Clinical Professor of Psychiatry, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, New York City.

But if the baby's normal need for his mother is denied sustenance or if it is over-indulged, his ego may be warped and result in a neurotic or emotional maladjustment. And when a baby is born abnormal, predisposed to schizophrenia, his demands on his mother may be excessive, and how they are handled may avert or cause the schizophrenic breakdown in childhood.

Or in later years. Mostly in the teens or 20's for this gravest of mental disorders is a "psychosis of youth."

It is generally thought that a child may be predisposed to schizophrenia at birth. This does not mean the child is destined to develop the psychosis. Then what precipitates the breakdown?

Something goes awry in environment.

Dr. Mahler believes the "something" is to be found in the earliest possible environment: the mother-child relationship. Here is fertile ground for planting the seeds of mental illness.

Or mental health... Dr. Mahler likes to remember this paraphrased precept of Sigmund Freud's daughter, Anna Freud: "Mental health will come of age when we can diagnose specific deficiencies in the child and provide specific remedies through the mother."

Dr. Mahler and her associate, Dr. Manuel Furer, Medical Director of the Masters Children's Center, have made comparative studies of pre-school mentally ill children and normal toddlers. They are currently demonstrating their new concept of treatment and research to therapists from all over the world.

Research at the Center is supported in part by the Research Foundation of the National Association for Mental Health. Dr. William Malamud, Professional and Research Director of the NAMH, explains: "I recommended the project to our Research Committee because it is very important to the understanding and treatment of childhood schizophrenia."

For a frame of reference, another look at normal child development.

The newborn infant lives entirely within his body. Then he becomes dimly aware that satisfaction of his body's needs depends on an outside source. He sees his mother's breast, her face, her ministering hands. This is the beginning of a love affair, what Dr. Mahler calls normal symbiosis—a dual unit in which there is a fusion and confusion of boundaries. The baby does not know where he ends and his mother begins.

Until he finds and pulls her hair. Or pushes his cracker into her mouth, not because of budding generosity but because he is discovering the existence of something outside of himself. Soon he crawls, finds his legs which take him away from his mother—and quickly back again. For he cannot yet stand alone. Before he finally succeeds in finding his identity, he goes to his mother again and again for refueling.

How well he succeeds depends on the balance of the mother-child relationship. His essential need for her supporting love must be gratified, but anticipation and over-indulgence of his every need stifles initiative and the development of a confident ego.

What about father? The question obviously arises and Dr. Mahler answers it: "As the baby emerges from symbiosis with his mother, the father takes his own place in the normal child's development. And sometimes he is a very good substitute-mother."

We come now to the unhappy picture of childhood schizophrenia. The first symptoms occur when the infant should normally separate at some object, become so preoccupied with it that he touches it again and again. He cannot distinguish human beings from inanimate things. Dr. Mahler describes a new method of treatment initiated at the Children's Center: "The mother and child are both present in therapy sessions. The therapist helps the child to separate from his mother and find his own identity, or if he has regressed, to bring him out of his autism. The mother is there to take part in the child's therapy. She can be very useful, for example, in interpreting what the child is trying to say, because she is familiar with his non-verbal ways of communicating."

Prosecutor Hits Testimony In Johnson Case

BALTIMORE (AP)—A federal prosecutor tried to discredit testimony Thursday that former congressman Thomas F. Johnson performed substantial legal services for savings and loan promoter J. Kenneth Edlin.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Arnold M. Weiner cross-examined Baltimore attorney Harry Adelberg in U.S. District Court for 1½ hours in an effort to show that $24,918 received by Johnson was for improper use of congressional influence and not for legitimate legal services.

Johnson, Edlin, former Alabama congressman Frank W. Boykin and William L. Robinson, Edlin's associate, are being tried on charges they conspired to use congressional influence to have a mail fraud indictment against Edlin dismissed.

Adelberg, Johnson's law associate, had testified as a defense witness that Johnson had discovered 305 legally defective mortgages in 1961 which were held by a savings and loan firm operated by Edlin. Adelberg also told the court that Johnson helped with legal research and discussions which resulted in securing necessary affidavits which corrected the mortgages.

Under Thursday's cross-examination, however, Adelberg acknowledged that he told FBI investigators in January, 1962, that he did not know the exact connection between Johnson and Edlin and Edlin's companies.

Adelberg also said his testimony before the grand jury on Jan. 30 was in error. Grand jury testimony showed that Adelberg said he had "no idea" whether Johnson had ever helped work on the 305 defective mortgages.

Adelberg said that since testifying before the grand jury, he had reviewed his files carefully and established that Johnson did perform legal work on the mortgages.

Weiner asked the witness: "Isn't it a fact that with the exception of the meeting April 29, 1961, Johnson never came to your office in preparing all the papers in the Charles County Land Company case, and you dealt with Robinson alone?"

"That's not accurate," Adelberg answered.

The trial was adjourned Thursday until Monday morning when it enters its sixth week. Johnson is expected to testify in his own defense Monday.

The mail fraud indictment against Edlin, which the defendants are accused of trying to influence, was handed down by a grand jury in 1959. Edlin pleaded no contest to the charge and served five months in prison.

All four men have pleaded innocent to the conspiracy charges.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican attempt to cut $200 million from the $450 million public works funds in the supplemental appropriations bill was defeated in the Senate Wednesday by a 60-62 roll call vote.

Both Maryland senators voted against the amendment. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster joined 52 other Democrats in opposing the amendment while Sen. J. Glenn Beall was one of seven Republicans on the same side.

West Virginia Democrats Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd also voted against the amendment.

Test Areas Picked For Cleaning

Downtown test areas for street sweeping have been selected and a schedule will go into effect May 13, the Street Department announced.

Selected as areas for the test, which may form the basis for a year-around program, are the following:

North and South Mechanic Street, North and South Liberty Street and North and South Centre Street from Bedford Street to Harrison Street; and South George Street from Baltimore Street to Harrison Street; Union Street from the B&O Railroad to South Centre Street; and Baltimore Street from the B&O Railroad to the Western Maryland Railway.

The streets were selected in cooperation with the Police Department at a recent meeting attended by Street Commissioner Lucile Roeder, Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney, Street Superintendent Ray Valentine and Police Sgt. Gordon Hite.

The schedule for cleaning will be 2 a. m. to 7 a. m. Monday and Thursdays.

Publicity on the test area will be a joint venture of both departments.

The Police Department will have plastic bags made to cover parking meters in the areas to be cleaned and will place them on meters the two mornings streets will be visited by the sweeper.

The test areas are an outgrowth of a meeting held some time ago with police, street and business representatives seeking some means to set up a year-around cleanup program.

Artemas Man In Accident

An Artemas, Pa., tractor-trailer driver figured in a wreck Tuesday on Braddock Mountain near Frederick in which another motorist was fatally injured.

State Police said the accident victim was Norman G. McBride, 45, of Myersville, an employee at High's Dairy in Frederick who was operating a pickup on Route 40 at 3:30 a.m.

Police reported that he was driving east when the pickup was struck by the rear of a jackknifing tractor-trailer truck operated by Herbert R. Jay, Artemas.

Troop Paul R. Sanders said the trailer swung into the pickup and slammed it into a bank.

The victim, his son-in-law, Kenneth H. Blickenstaff, RD 2, Myersville, and his granddaughter, Karen, 2, were thrown from the vehicle.

All were taken to Frederick Memorial Hospital where Blickenstaff and his granddaughter were released after being treated for minor injuries. McBride died shortly after being admitted.

Services were conducted yesterday for the victim in Myersville with interment there.

Trooper Sanders said Jay has been charged with failing to keep to the right of the center of the highway.

Boy Fatally Injured By Big Boulder

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — Bruce Johnston, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Johnston, of the Smith Creek Community near here, was killed Wednesday when crushed under a large stone while playing along the bank of the South Branch of the Potomac along U.S. Route 220, about six miles south of Franklin.

Johnston and two youthful companions, not identified by Pendleton County authorities, had been fishing in the stream when they decided to roll stones into the river. They climbed to a ledge about 20 feet above the water, and when the accident occurred Johnston was trying to loosen a boulder near the ledge and the other two boys were working on it from the rear.

The boys did not see Johnston disappear as the stone started rolling over the ledge, but they heard him scream and scrambling to the edge of the precipice they saw his crushed body below with the boulder a short distance away in the water.

Johnston's companions went to a nearby home to summon aid and notify authorities, but Dr. H. Luke Eye, Pendleton county, after examining the body ruled the boy had been killed instantly as the result of a crushed chest, internal injuries and a broken back.

The youth attended Franklin High School.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The general membership of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland elected three members to the group's Board of Medical Examiners Thursday.

Re-elected to four years terms on the eight-member board were Dr. Frank K. Morris of Baltimore and Dr. John H. Hornbaker of Hagerstown.

Elected to serve the unexpired term of Dr. C. Stanford Hamilton of Pocomoke City, who died last year, was Dr. W. R. Ellis of Salisbury.

Man Jailed In Car Theft Probe

Trooper Richard Brown of the State Police yesterday evening arrested an Ohio man who was driving a car which had been reported stolen Tuesday in Greensburg, Pa.

Trooper Brown arrested Ernest P. Drumm on Martin Mountain and after checking on the car learned it had been stolen from Robert F. Corley, Murraysville, Pa., on Tuesday.

Drumm is being held in the County Jail awaiting the arrival of authorities from Pennsylvania.

Dividend Prediction

The record of corporate dividend payment gains was maintained in April, according to Standard & Poor's Corp. "With corporate profits running at a record level, reinforced by rising non-cash charges for depreciation, favorable dividend actions should continue to predominate in the months ahead," the statistical agency said.

TWA Wins Suit

Millionaire industrialist Howard Hughes Thursday lost a big round in his long struggle with Trans World Airlines which is suing Hughes, it biggest stockholder, for $145 million in damages under the anti-trust laws.

A federal court judge decided Hughes and his interests were in "wilful default" in the complex action and said he would enter a formal default judgment in TWA's favor Friday. He also dismissed Hughes' $366 million countersuit against lenders who financed TWA's jet aircraft purchases in 1960.

Jobs Increase

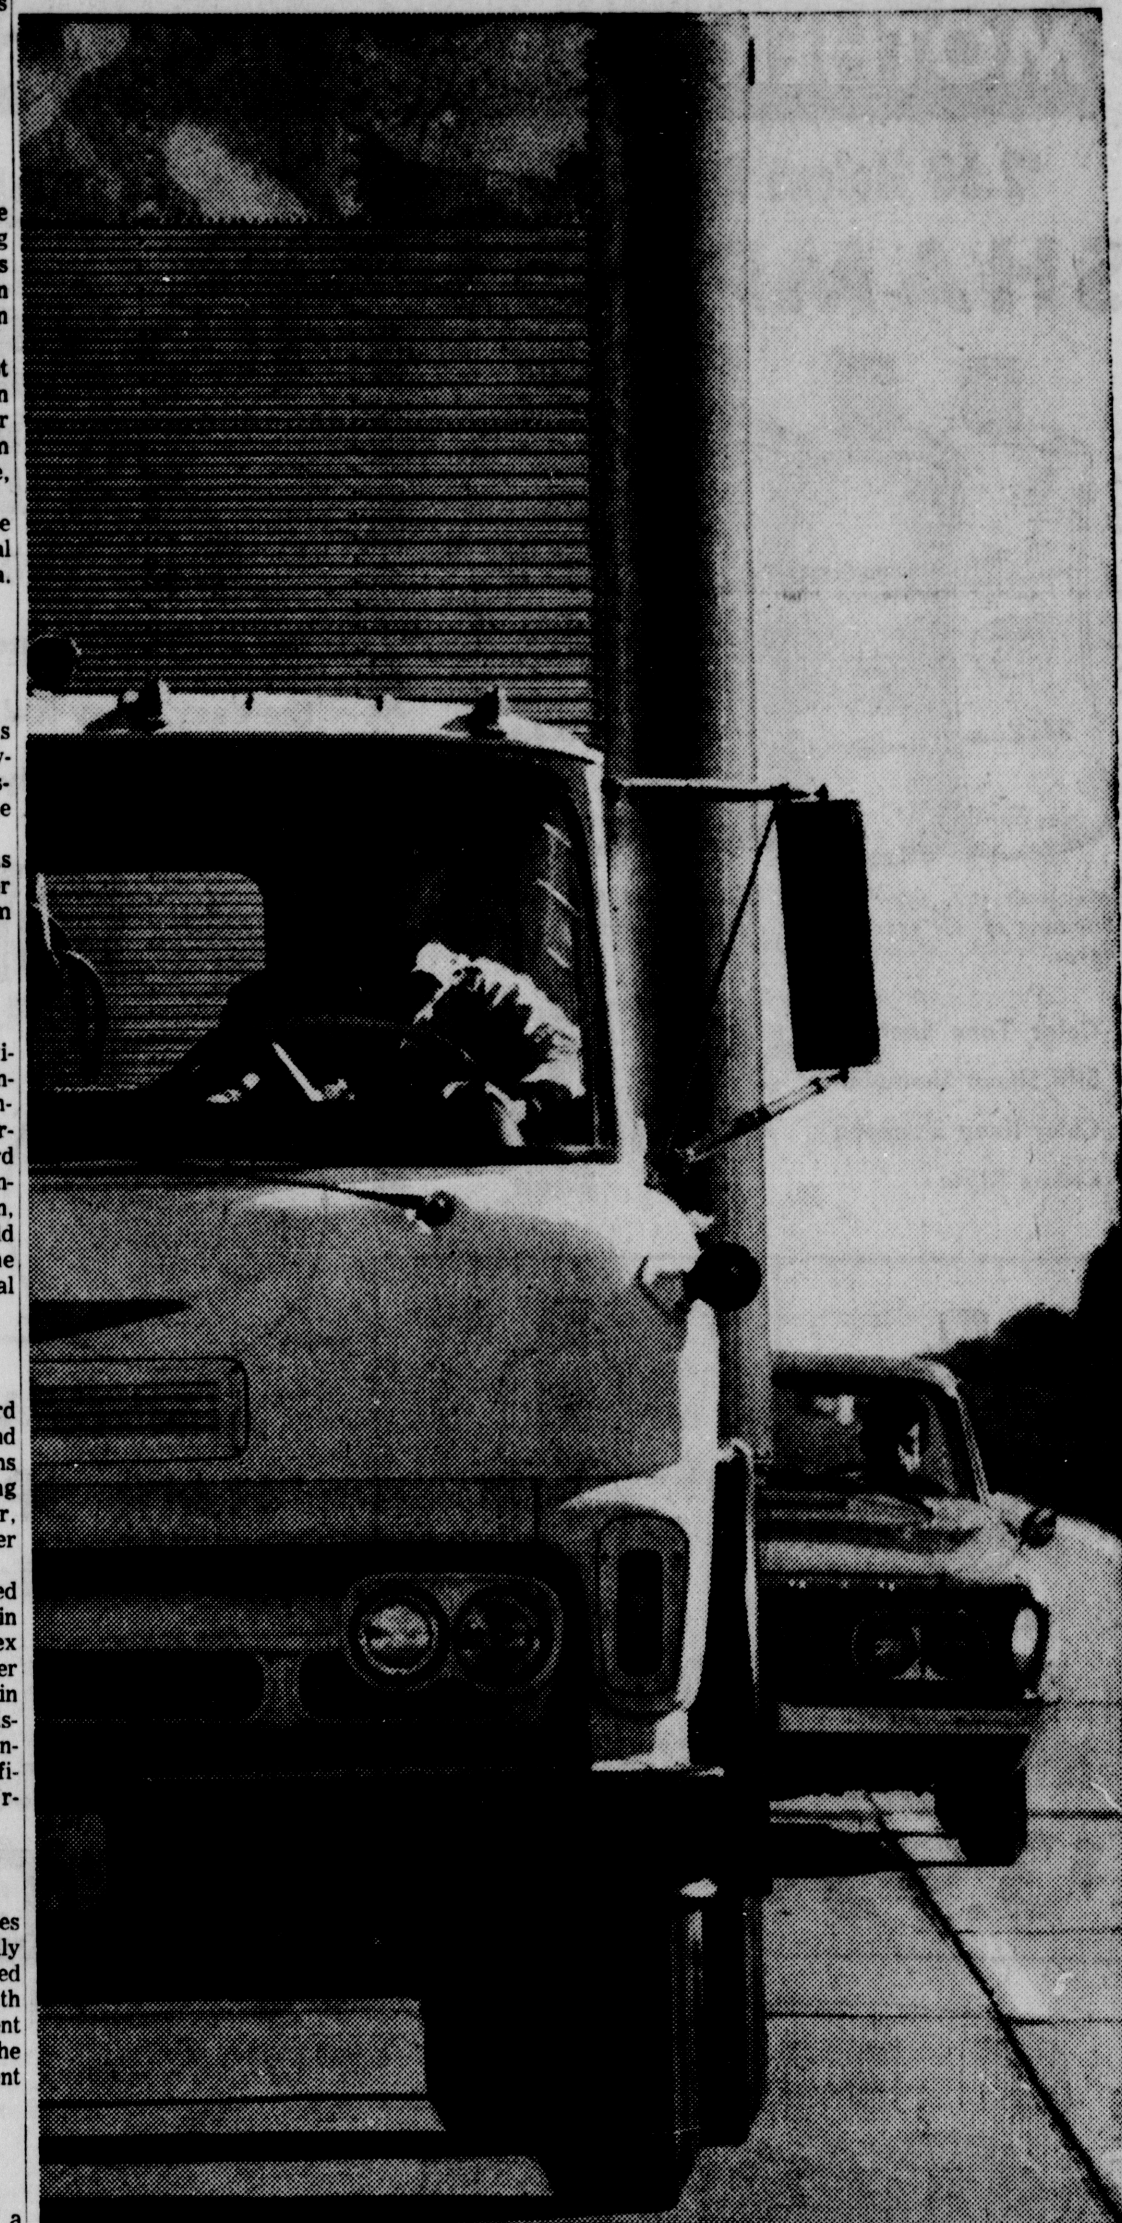

Mid-April employment figures rose a bit more than seasonally while unemployment remained about unchanged from a month earlier, the Labor Department said. Its statisticians said the over-all change was not sufficient to be significant.

Production Rises

The auto industry scheduled a 6.3 per cent production increase over last year for the current week. Many industry plants including four GM and nine Ford facilities put production on a six day basis. Meanwhile Ford reported its April car sales were the highest for any month in history, up 4 per cent from a year

Nettlesome Nub Of U.S.-Canada Talks

Washington having done, however artlessly, what it could to encourage his election, Canadian Prime Minister Pearson's conference in Hyannis Port with President Kennedy promises to be refreshingly cordial.

Their spirits are kindred; their interests compatible. They share an absorption in the joy of defeating conservatives. Nevertheless, the nub of their discussions is bound to be nettlesome. The thorny problems that generated an antagonism in former Prime Minister Diefenbaker have not vanished with his defeat.

Foremost among them is the question of arming Canadian defenses with nuclear warheads. Pearson is standing by his pledge to fulfill Canada's promises, but the prospect seems to have become no more popular at home. Completion of the arrangements will have to be handled with more deftness than the U.S. Defense Department has shown, lest the new Prime Minister suffer the consequences in Parliament.

Canada's new administration also will be encouraged to join in hemispheric trade and security arrangements through OAS. As an architect of NATO and supporter of an Atlantic alliance, Pearson will certainly be more cooperative than his predecessor. This does not mean he will be any less Canadian.

The meeting at Hyannis Port May 10-11 will provide an opportunity for the Prime Minister to demonstrate he can be both. But this must be proved to the satisfaction of the Canadian people and Parliament, for Pearson commands less than a majority, and is still very much on trial.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

The Age Of The Switcheroo

Said Topsy to Turvy, "I don't get the hang of things these days. Here's our President, who has presumably studied logic at Harvard. The other day in his press conference he said that we had done pretty much all we could to 'demonstrate our hostility to the concept of a Soviet satellite in the Caribbean.' When I went to school a concept was something that was in your mind. Is Fidel Castro that? Is it just a concept that flew the other day from Havana to Murnansk and Moscow?"

"My dear Topsy," said Turvy, "you don't get the idea. Everything today goes by opposites. It's the age of the switcheroo. It goes way beyond politics. Why, when I was growing up, there were a lot of articles of faith. Spinach was good for children. Too much calcium in the body caused arthritis. Lizzy Borden was guilty of chopping up her mother and father. Sacco and Vanzetti were innocent. Sam Insull, the big electrical utilities tycoon of Chicago who went broke in the depression from over-inflating his assets, was a delighted representative of the 'old order.' But now the doctors tell the mothers that spinach contains too much acid for young bodies and that a quart of milk a day is just the thing for old people with rheumatism. The book writers are now proving that the original juries were right in declaring Lizzy Borden innocent and Sacco and Vanzetti guilty. And a professor at Brown University has just made Sam Insull the hero of a biography. Who knows, maybe the switcheroo verdicts are right."

"You're going too fast for me," said Topsy. "Let's stick to politics for a while. There's this business in Laos, for instance. A couple of years ago old Ave Harriman advised that we set up a coalition government in Laos, with a Communist left, a neutralist center and a pro-Western right. Well, we did it. The left's territory in Laos is, of course, contiguous to Red China and Red North Vietnam—and in these parts of the world it is China's Mao Tse-tung who calls the tune. Now everyone knows that the Red Chinese do what they please these days without asking a by-your-leave from Khrushchev. So what do we do to preserve the peace in Laos? We send Ave Harriman to Moscow to ask Khrushchev to call off Mao Tse-tung's dogs in that drive toward southeast Asia's rice bowl. Isn't this like asking the manager of the Houston Colts to win a couple of games for Casey Stengel's Meis?"

"Well, what would you have our State Department do," asked Turvy, "send Averil Harriman to Albania?" "Why not," said Topsy, "he might be able to get through to Mao from there. There's evidently a hot wire between Albania and Peiping."

"It's what is said over the wire that counts," said Turvy pontifically. "Well, it's pretty clear that I'm not going to get anywhere trying to apply logic to foreign affairs," said Topsy. "But what about Congress? Here we send our representatives to Washington to legislate, and they respond by passing just two new laws in three months time. Shouldn't we do something about our lazy Congressmen?"

"You shouldn't blame Congress," said Turvy. "You should blame the switcheroo. Haven't you heard that in this day and age it's the duty of the White House to do the legislating? Instead of Henry Clay and Daniel Webster proposing our laws today, we have Dr. Heller and Professor Schlesinger. They have decided that the people want tax reform and federal aid to education and a lot of things like that."

"I hadn't heard that the people elected Heller and Schlesinger," said Topsy.

"Precisely," said Turvy. "It's only some very small minorities that really want the laws that the legislators in the White House propose. So what does Congress do? It simply invokes the switcheroo and sets itself up as the governing body that exercises the veto. This used to be the President's prerogative, but, as I said at the beginning, everything goes by opposites these days."

"If you aren't careful," said Topsy, "you'll have me carrying Goldwater on both shoulders. It's enough to rock a feller."

"Don't try to be funny," said Turvy, "things are funny enough already."

TFX Affair Vehicle For Attack On McNamara

WASHINGTON.

This week, Sen. John McClellan's Special Investigating Committee will resume its hearings on the TFX contract. The word is going round the capital that the Senator, a determined man, means to keep the hearings going until July, and expects to "turn the TFX contract around."

That means, in effect, that Sen. McClellan hopes to force the resignation of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara. For the Secretary can hardly accept the reversal of his decision, to award this contract to General Dynamics instead of the Boeing Co., without resigning because his judgment has been reversed.

The TFX controversy turns upon technicalities which outsiders, conspicuously including Senate investigating committees, are by no means well-qualified to weigh. Secretary McNamara who had to fight hard to get even one brief hearing from the committee, has had no real chance to tell his side of the story.

But the rights and wrongs of the TFX affair are very much less important, in any case, than the rights and wrongs of the attack on McNamara, for which the TFX affair is merely the vehicle. If this vehicle had not served, another one would have been made to serve. That was inevitable, in view of the nature of McNamara's effort.

Since the Defense Department was established, all the successive Secretaries before McNamara have been divisible into two categories. The good Secretaries were primarily interested in national defense. To these, the contemporary members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff invariably behaved with extraordinary arrogance.

The bad Secretaries were primarily interested in budgetary economies. To these, the Joint Chiefs invariably behaved with shameless servility. When the pie was big, in short, the uniformed chiefs of the armed services complained because there was not more pie; and when the pie was limited, they bowed to the ground to get the largest slice. This curious rhythm was only once interrupted. In the early summer of 1948, after the Czechoslovakian coup d'etat, the Joint Chiefs confronted James V. Forrestal with combined requests for a defense budget of $24 billion. Forrestal, although intensely defense-minded, rather than budget-minded, knew he could not get so large a sum in those days. Hence he asked the Chiefs' help in making cuts.

Knowing Forrestal was defense-minded, the Chiefs refused to help. Forrestal then worked almost from dawn until late at night, day after day, week after

STEEL PRICE RISE — President Kennedy's dilemma over the steel industry's "selective" price increases showed plainly in the caution with which he approached the whole matter and the tight-lipped silence that enveloped the White House when the rises were being announced.

The President's reaction was just the opposite of a year ago when he angrily — and emotionally — rushed out his condemnation of across-the-board hikes that immediately followed the signing of a wage agreement. The situation was different then, of course, as the President looked upon the increases as a breach of an implied agreement to hold the line against inflation.

Nevertheless, a good part of the inflationary impact still exists in the present price increases that were announced over a period of almost two weeks. From some experts in government came word that Kennedy had been advised of this but decided not to block the boosts.

week, through all that summer and autumn, making his own line-by-line cuts to reduce the defense budget to $18 billion. The strain of that unaided effort was what, in fact, killed Jim Forrestal.

Despite that warning, McNamara has set out to accomplish more than Forrestal ever attempted. He is just as defense-minded as Forrestal was, and his first requirement is a fully adequate national defense program, but he has also been trying to reduce the unit-cost of national defense, which has risen continuously and remorselessly and not least under the economizing Defense Secretaries like Charles E. Wilson and Louis Johnson.

The White House reason, it is learned, stems from the charges of "anti-business" the President was accused of last year. It took months of diligent effort to disabuse the business community of that one, and in the meanwhile the ensuing lack of confidence in business prospects very nearly brought on a recession.

In fact, some of Kennedy's own advisers contended that while his reaction was understandable on human grounds, he did not thoroughly explore the impact his roll-back strategy would have on the economy generally. So, Kennedy has elected to go slow this time, to accept the responsibility for a little inflation rather than risk another economy-shaking effort to hold the price line.

This doesn't mean that steel and other basic industries now have a green light to jump on the price-increase bandwagon. On the contrary, the White House is looking for the right forum and the right timing to draw a guideline on what will and what will not be accepted.

Guantanamo Naval Base Is A New Mecca For Junketing Congressmen

By Jack Anderson

mirals than reserve captains and commanders.

They were accompanied by four escort officers, who, out-ranked some of the congressional reservists yet cheerfully hustled their baggage and saw to their comfort. A full-time doctor, Capt. Kenneth W. Schenck, also went along to hand out any aspirin that might be needed.

A-Strictly Bipartisan

Among the reservists treated with such loving care were Congressmen Robert Duncan (D-Ore.), Ed Edmondson (D-Okla.), Ray Roberts (D-Tex.), Henry Schadeberg (R-Wis.), and Sam Stratton (D-N.Y.).

Ex-Congressman James Van Zandt (R-Pa.), who used to head up these naval junkets before his defeat at the polls last year, also took the trip. So did Interstate Commerce Chairman Everett Hutchinson.

Another April flight to Guantanamo, made up of non-naval congressmen, included James Batin (R-Mont.), Ralph Beermann (R-Neb.), Don Brotzman (R-Colo.), William Cramer (R-Fla.), Robert Hemphill (D-S.C.), Pat Jennings (D-Va.), Carleton King (R-N.Y.), James O'Hara (D-Mich.), Ogden Reid (R-N.Y.), and B. F. Sisk (D-Calif.).

On an earlier plane, which flew to Guantanamo in late March, were Congressmen John Anderson (R-Ill.), James Broyhill (R-N.C.), Sam Devine (R-Ohio), Ed Foreman (R-Tex.), Charles Hoeven (R-Iowa), Clarence Long (D-Md.), John Marsh (D-Va.), Robert McCloskey (R-Ill.), Robert McCloskey (R-Ill.), James Quillen (R-Tenn.), Don Rumsfeld (R-Ill.), Lionel Van Deerlin (D-Calif.), James Weaver (R-Pa.), and Compton White (D-Idaho).

Foreman, McCloskey, and Rumsfeld got back from Guantanamo just in time to take an Easter cruise aboard the USS Thomas Jefferson in the South Atlantic.

Charged up to the taxpayers as an "orientation cruise," it attracted such other sea-loving congressmen as George Brown Jr. (D-Calif.), Ronald Cameron (D-Calif.), James Grover Jr. (R-N.Y.), Richard Ichord (D-Mo.), Lucien Nedzi (D-Mich.), Howard Robison (R-N.Y.), and William Van Pelt (R-Wis.).

It should be interesting to watch how these congressmen vote on naval appropriations.

Two-Gun Doctor

The Red Cross is distressed over its director in Haiti, Dr. Jacques Fourcand, who wears the uniform of mercy with a pistol on each hip.

Instead of spreading solace, he has spoken ominously of a blood bath if Haitians try to oust Dictator Duvalier when his constitutional six-year term expires on May 15.

"Blood will flow in Haiti," warned the Red Cross chief. "The land will burn from north to south, from east to west. There will be no sunrise or sunset, just one big flame licking the sky.... there will be a Himalaya of corpses."

Note — Dr. Fourcand, an American-educated brain surgeon, is the dictator's personal physician. He was appointed to his Red Cross post by Duvalier.

Washington Whirl

The congressional speech factory, which works in hushed anonymity at the Library of Congress, has been doing homework for college students. This unorthodox service has been ordered by members of Congress who apparently will go to any extreme to help constituents.... The ghost writers don't always tailor speeches to fit the individual who is supposed to deliver them. For instance, Oregon's lovely Senator Maurine Neuberger ordered a speech on agriculture, got back a polished oration which began: "Agriculture has undergone great changes since I was a boy...."

Four Negro congressmen deserve a profile-in-courage award for voting against their colleague, Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, who tried to bar government aid to medical schools which don't admit Negroes. The four refused to be stampeded by the racial issue, knowing that the Powell amendment would have killed medical school aid. Putting the national welfare ahead of a racial appeal were Congressmen William Dawson of Illinois, Charles Diggs of Michigan, Augustus Hawkins of California, and Robert Nix of Pennsylvania, all Democrats.... The John Birch Society, which still has surprising strength in the mountain states despite its repudiation by the influential Mormon Church, has marked two senators from the rockies for defeat next year. They are Gale McGee of Wyoming and Frank Moss of Utah, both moderate Democrats. They belong to the new breed of senators who have brought youth and vigor to the Senate.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

The men in her profession do not like her. She knows it. She has learned to live with it. Mrs. Jobie Arnold is the only woman horse handicapper in America. What's worse is that she ranks among the top five. She is 32, has serious brown eyes edged with sun squints, molasses skin, a trim body and strong hands.

A week ago, she left Gulfstream Park to head north with all the other thoroughbreds. In the Miami Herald, which publishes her racing selections, Jobie had finished second to Russ Harris. Both averaged 33 percent in picking winners. That's about tops. The best of them get two wrong for every good one.

The men use mathematics as a basis for picking winners. They go on past performances, weight, distance, recent workouts, trainer, and the calibre of nags the horse is pitted against. It is work which can be done at a desk in a den. Mrs. Arnold was raised in Lexington, Kentucky. Her mother was an accomplished horsewoman. Her father was a mechanical engineer.

So she has a natural love of horses, and an appreciation for mathematics. She is probably the only horse handicapper in the country who gets out at dawn every day to gallop her own horse around a track. Mrs. Arnold pins the horse's ears back and lets him go. She has been doing this since her third birthday.

The big trainers watch her run, and they know that she knows horses. So, when she gets back to the stable area, she walks the hot horse in the blue morning breeze and swaps horse talk with trainers and jockeys. She's a lady, a most feminine woman, but more a horsewoman than a horse-woman.

They talk problems and horse health. Mrs. Arnold always comes away with a tip or two which will alter the finely honed figures on today's races. If she sees a little swelling around a leg tendon, Jobie takes that horse off her list of possible winners because he's going to bow that tendon under strain. If his coat is dull, she figures that he is not in top condition.

She clocks the morning workouts herself. If a trainer orders a jockey to run a horse hard, Jobie puts a mark against that horse. "Horses can be overtrained," she says, "and undertrained. Sometimes, you have an average horse who is not great in any sense, but he happens to be conditioned by a fine trainer and he is going to be ridden today by a jockey who is going good. In that case, I'll pick him unless I see something else in the same race far better."

We sat in Gulfstream's Turf Club with Joe Tanenbaum, the friendly owl. I asked her if any racers, in her opinion, are fixed. "No," she said. "To fix a race today you'd have to take care of too many people." Racing today is too big and too profitable to ruin.

Jobie was married once. It's over now, and she has a boy named Donnie who is ten. She also has her father living with her in Miami. The two men are her big fans. Her stories — and selections — are also published in papers outside of Miami — The Cincinnati Enquirer; The Cincinnati Post-Times-Star; the Louisville Courier-Journal; and Thoroughbred Record Magazine.

Some of the newspaper editors want Jobie to write society material; like who was at the track today and what she was wearing. Jobie doesn't like this work. She has a tincture of scorn for some racing men. "They swap horses all day and liquor and women all night," she says. "She'd rather be on the sports page."

Mrs. Arnold never bets on a horse race, which shows a proper lack of faith. She majored in journalism at the University of Kentucky and prefers to be known as a writer rather than a handicapper. She's pretty good at both.

The meet at Gulfstream was practically over when we had lunch. I said I would follow her selections for the day. "Oh please," she said. "Don't." I said farewell, and thank you. Tanenbaum left to do his racing broadcasts.

In the first, Jobie picked Weatherwith. Everglades Cycle won. In the second, she had Wisk Up, which scratched. In the third, she selected Fresh Out, which was. Her Best Bet was That Man in the fourth, which finished behind More and Mael the Great. In the fifth, her Wilsonia scratched. In the sixth, she picked Acornum, which was beaten by Hotoi. In the 7th, I found myself with walking around money. Jobie picked King's Highway, which was scratched. It was the best thing that happened on a rare bad day. In the rest room, I tipped the boy a dime. He smiled and handed it back. "Thank you, sir," he said. "But I know a born loser when I see one."

Lon Tinkle tells about the West Texas cattle raiser who was asked what he did in the summer between the time he alighted from his air-conditioned automobile and got into his air-conditioned ranch house. Replied the Texan, "I run like heck."

Little Suzie, a hepcat and rock-and-roller from way back, wasn't so good when it came to less important things like reading and writing. In fact, she mistook a hay-and-feed store for a music shop. Snapping her fingers and wiggling her tiny posterior, she demanded, "Have you got 'Two Hot Lips and Eleven Kisses'?" "No," smiled the hay-and-feed man, "but we have two tom cats and eleven kittens." "Is that a record?" asked Suzie dubiously. "Well, if it isn't," said the hay-and-feed man, "it's the next thing to it."

APPENDICITIS

P. R. writes: Is there some bug making the rounds that could cause a rash of appendicitis cases?

REPLY

Not to my knowledge. Abdominal pain, often indistinguishable from appendicitis, may be associated with certain respiratory infections. In this respect, your idea is not farfetched.

SOUTHERN FRUIT

A. R. writes: Is it true that people who live in the north should not eat citrus fruit grown in the south?

REPLY

No; this statement was not true even during the Civil War. It sounds like a continuation of the California-Florida competition.

REPLY

No. Many women with arthritis improve during pregnancy but the female hormones are not responsible.

OUTSTANDING VISION

C. M. writes: How is 20/15 vision rated? Someone said 20/20 means perfect vision.

REPLY

Better than average. At 20 feet, the average person sees the 20/20 line on the chart without difficulty. He cannot see the smaller print of the 20/15 line unless he moves 5 feet closer to the chart. But the person with 20/15 vision can see this line at 20 feet. In this respect, he has better than normal vision.

Runners-up were Susan Minshall, Charlene Kimble, Susie Kimble and Jeannette Shepp.

Bids Are Sought

ROMNEY — The United States Soil Conservation Service, at its Morgantown office, is advertising for bids for the construction of a flood-retarding dam at Site No. 9 in Mineral County on the Cut-off Road between U.S. Routes 50 and 220.

This is part of the New Creek

For Area Dam

Watershed program and is designed to prevent flood damage to the New Creek Valley and the City of Keyser. Bids will be received until 1 p. m. May 27.

Rise of the Common Market has clouded prospects for 30 percent of U.S. farm exports, says the Department of Agriculture.

Kindergarten Is Approved

OAKLAND — The first State approved kindergarten in Garrett County non-parochial in character, will open its doors this September. Miss Helen L. Widmyer, representative of the State Department of Education, gave approval to the project, as did the County Health Department and the District Fire Inspector.

The kindergarten will be directed and taught by Mrs. Eugene (Barbara) Flinn, in her home near Southern High School.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have no problems but I wonder if you would answer some questions about your column which have been on my mind for a long time. I'll bet others have wondered about these things, too.

Do you ever keep a letter out of the paper if a person asks you not to print it? Someone told me that every letter you get belongs to you and you can print it if you want to.

Do you ever change the names in the letters or the signatures to conceal the identity of people if the problems are intimate? Or do you assume the writer has already changed the names to protect himself?

Thank you very much.

—NOT NOSEY.

JUST INQUISITIVE

DEAR NOT NOSEY: I have the right to print all letters addressed to me. I do not, however, print letters if I am asked not to.

Yes, sometimes I change the signatures to protect the writers. But this can backfire, as it did recently. A woman who wrote about a sister-in-law problem signed herself Sad Sally. To conceal her identity I changed the signature to Sad Mary. She wrote me the day her letter appeared in print and was furious because I had changed the name from Sally to Mary. Mary was her REAL name!!!

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My sister and I lived in the family home until this spring when my sister was married. I didn't want to remain there alone so I found a suitable apartment.

I know nothing about apartment etiquette for unmarried women. Please answer these questions:

When a single woman, age 40, lives alone in an apartment, does her gentleman friend escort her to her own door, or do they say goodnight downstairs? A doorman is on duty but only at certain hours.

Also, at what hour is it considered too late or improper to invite a man in after a date? This is a respectable building and I don't want to do anything that might give my neighbors the wrong impression of me.

—ELINOR

DEAR ELINOR: A 40-year-old woman does not need a curfew or supervision. Common sense should be your guide. Any time before midnight is a reasonable hour to invite guests in — whether there is a doorman or not.

And if you want a goodnight kiss, you'd better permit your friend to escort you to YOUR

Loan Society Directors Are Elected

FROSTBURG — Stockholders of the Equitable Savings and Loan Society met recently for the annual meeting and re-elected the board of directors which served in 1962-63. They are: John Glenn Beall, William R. Carscaden, Joseph M. Condon, Herbert E. Loar, Robert Pirchard, Ralph M. Race and Raymond M. Sauder.

More than 78 per cent of the Investors and Borrowers Shares were represented at the meeting, which heard reports of the officers and approved payment of the current dividend of four and one-half per cent. President Race informed the meeting that the annual audit of the Society's books is under way and that the auditor reports a record high percentage of confirmations returned. The Society, one of the oldest financial organizations in the country, is unusual in that it is a truly mutual association and the borrowers vote as well as the investors.

Following the stockholders meeting, the Board met to elect officers for the coming fiscal year. All were re-elected and are, in addition to President Race, Herbert E. Loar, vice-president; Joseph M. Condon, treasurer; and Bette P. Satzer, secretary, not a board member. William R. Carscaden was again named counsel.

PTA Unit Installs Officers

FROSTBURG — Mrs. William Conway was installed as president of the Hill Street PTA a recent evening.

Other officers who will serve are Mrs. William Bernard, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Baker, secretary, and Mrs. Alfred Fritz, treasurer.

On behalf of the association, Mrs. Merrill Phillips, retiring president, presented the faculty and school personnel with gifts. Checks from the PTA were given to John Manley, principal, for the purchase of library books and educational materials.

Announcement of the following meetings was made: PTA workshop at Thomas G. Pullen School, May 22; County Council of Parents and Teachers, Westernport Elementary School, May 13, and Countywide Child Study Groups meeting at Cresaptown School, May 8. Parents desiring to attend should contact Mrs. Phillips.

ROTC Review Set Next Week

KEYSER — The President's Review, the ROTC's annual program at Potomac State College honoring President E. E. Church, will take place Thursday, May 9, at 12:15 p. m. on the drill field of the Kelley Armory. The program is open to the public.

On the same day, the ROTC will be celebrating the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the Reserve Officers Training Corps on the Potomac State College campus. The Corps has grown from a group of 164 men under two active duty sergeants in 1952 to a battalion of 400 men, in three companies, with a staff of six active Army personnel.

Highlight of the program will be presentation of Superior Cadet awards to Cadet Lt. Col. Robert F. Clements, a sophomore, who this year has been cadet battalion commander.

Scout Council To Hold Outing

PIEDMONT — The Senior Scout Council, a coed group, will hold an outing at the cottage of Mrs. Thomas Bess, near Aurora on Route 50, Sunday at 2 p. m.

The Tri-Towns Scouts will meet at Trinity Methodist Church at 1 p. m. for transportation.

Following the picnic lunch and business session, the group will visit Cathedral Park with Miss Ruth Hoover, and Miss Vera Stemple, Aurora, as guides.

Beall May Queen Crowned

Joseph Pellerzi, principal of Beall High School, is shown crowning Miss Jo Ann Grimm as Queen of the May at the annual May day program held at the school Wednesday afternoon. Robert Ashby, the Queen's escort stands at the left. Following the coronation a program depicting the early history of the United States was given for the queen and her court.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lana Turner, not without experience in both marriage and divorce, proves she's game for some wise-cracks sure to crop up about her playing a divorce lawyer in "Grounds for Marriage" (cute title, that).

The story is an original by Alex Gottlieb but it will be produced and directed by Jack Arnold who has twice directed Lana in the past in "Lady Takes a Flyer" as well as "Bachelor in Paradise" with Bob Hope.

But, before he can put "Grounds for Marriage" into production in September, Arnold must start and complete his sting directing Bob Hope in "a global affair" for Hall Bartlett.

Skip (Mrs. Henry) Hathaway, who went to Val D'Isere, France, with Henry to get in some skiing before they returned to America, said she had a wonderful time there. They met Rocky and Maria Cooper and Rocky is coming to Los Angeles in October for Gary's mother, Mrs. Alice Cooper's 90th birthday.

Henry, who left "Of Human Bondage," has been deluged with offers since his return. He had luncheon with Freddie Kohlmar, discussing a property, and Ray Stark makes Henry for a movie. This makes it clear that Henry was not blamed even though he refused to continue directing Kim Novak.

Freddie Brisson, who has been draped in horseshoes with everything he has attempted on Broadway, or should I say—he's shown remarkable talent for picking hits, returns to stage production this fall with "The Sunday Game." It's George Panetta's comedy with the pleasant humor of a "Life with Father"—and you can just bet that Freddie will bring it to the screen as he has his former hits, including his newest, "Under the Yum Yum Tree." Brisson also has another stage property on tap, "A Remedy for Winter," by Leonard Spigelgass.

But these projects must wait until Brisson completes "Under the Yum Yum Tree" with Jack Lemmon, Carol Lynley and Edie Adams at Columbia.

Before he got out of Frankfurt, Germany, Rock Hudson had good cause to wish the fans had NOT been so crazy about him. Poor Rock was such a sensation at his hotel that as he was leaving the elevator operators, bellboys, telephone girls and the entire staff cluttered around him asking him, please to speak in his own natural voice. All his movies are dubbed by another actor in their native German.

So Rock rattled away saying anything that popped into his

Handy Shopping Guide to Series E U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

No matter what their denomination, all U.S. Savings Bonds have these things in common: They're one of the safest and most widely held investments in the world—owned by tens of millions of American families.

They're replaceable in case of loss by fire, theft or plain carelessness.

They return $4 for every $3 invested, at maturity.

They're cashable at any time without red tape (and you can defer the tax on the interest until the Bond is cashed).

They do the double job of helping to make your individual future, as well as your country's future, secure.

Buy the ones that fit your budget — at your bank, or through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Makes an ideal gift for graduations, birthdays, communions, bar mitzvahs or any occasion when you want to be especially nice to someone. Including yourself. Sells for $18.75

This is an increasingly popular size with millions of American families. If you'd started buying one every month ten years ago, you'd now have $5,230. On sale at all times for $37.50

In 7½ years you can turn this Bond in for a crisp hundred dollar bill. You'll be getting 3½% interest and your government's thanks. You can buy it for only $75.00

This one is tailor-made for the investment of bonuses, tax refunds and other windfalls. In 7½ years it grows into a tidy $200 nest egg, yet costs only $150.00

Grandfathers can give one of these Bonds to eight grandchildren (or eight of them to one grandchild) in any one year without having to pay the gift tax, because the outlay per Bond is only $375.00

Very few people can buy one of these out of every paycheck. But lots of businesses buy them as a good safe investment for company surplus funds. And widows who suddenly find themselves with a large insurance check can do no better than to put part of that money into one of these king-size Bonds. $750.00

Issued for larger investors, whether individuals or institutions (yes, corporations, partnerships, credit unions, pension funds and any other group except commercial banks may own Savings Bonds — and many do). $7,500.00

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Eight Slated To Go Postward In Kentucky Derby Saturday

Candy Spots Is Installed 6-5 Favorite

Never Bend Is 2nd Choice At 5-2; No Robbery 3d At 3-1

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—California's favored Candy Spots, a 100-1 outsider named Investor who got in on credit, and seven other 3-year-old horses were named Thursday for the smallest Kentucky Derby field since 1957.

The skimpy field is attributed to the presence of three top contenders for the $125,000-added classic Saturday at Churchill Downs, plus several competent contenders.

Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, 6-5 favorite for the Derby at 1 1/4 miles, and Greentree Stable's No Robbery never have been beaten. Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend was the champion 2-year-old of 1962, and hasn't lost a race this season. Never Bend is the 5-2 second choice, and No Robbery is third at 3-1.

But this didn't bother trainer Frank A. Stone, who couldn't produce $250 to enter Investor for his owner, J. Jock Chier of Watkins Glen, N.Y. The racing secretary had decided to close entries with eight horses after a delay of about 20 minutes when Stone got a long distance call through to Chier, who guaranteed the $250 entry fee. Now he must get up another $1,250 before the Derby post time of 4:30 p.m. EST Saturday to start the colt.

Others named Thursday were John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, Ambush Stable's On My Honor, Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour, B.J. Ridder's Royal Tower and Walnut Hill Farms Gray Pet. All will carry 126 pounds.

The race will be televised (CBS) from 4-5 p.m. EST and broadcast (CBS) from 4:15-4:45.

In addition to Candy Spots, Bonjour, On My Honor and Royal Tower are California-bred. Investor was foaled in Maryland, the others in Kentucky.

In all the long series of races from coast to coast this year, this Derby has grabbed the cream—although Investor seems like sour milk to some off his miserable record. His odds were 73-1 in Tuesday's Derby Trial won by Bonjour, and he finished next to last in a field of eight. He has won twice in 24 starts, earning $4,432.

Beat Never Bend
Candy Spots, who beat Never Bend in the Arlington-Washington Futurity at Chicago last fall, has a 6-0 record, including this year's Santa Anita and Florida Derbies. He has won $336,812.

Never Bend, with a 10-3 record has banked $502,484. His big one this year was the Flamingo at Hialeah.

No Robbery, with a 5-0 mark, won the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct, beating Bonjour. He has earned $76,245, but the Wood was his first stakes.

Chateaugay took the Blue Grass Stakes last Thursday at Keeneland, and On My Honor grabbed the California Derby at Bay Meadows April 20.

If all nine go postward, the Derby will be worth $151,400, and the winner's share of $108,900 will be the smallest since Iron Liege got $107,950.

Athletics' Pfister Is Sent To Clinic

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics sent pitcher Dan Pfister to the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., Thursday for an examination of his throwing right elbow.

Pfister, who has a 1-0 record this season, last pitched April 27 when he posted a victory against the Washington Senators. But Pfister said the elbow had troubled him since the second week of the season.

Pfister, 26, holds the Kansas City single game strikeout record of 11, which he set last May as a rookie. He had a 4-14 record last year.

WVU Hurler Sets Record, Fans 18 Bobcat Stickers

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI)—Pitcher John Radosevich gave up only two hits and struck out 18 batters — a modern West Virginia University record — here Thursday as the Mountaineers shut out Wesleyan 3-0.

The win was WVU's first shut-out of the season, gave the Mountaineers an 18-1 record, and left Radosevich with the best record of the squad's pitching staff to date. Wesleyan is 5-4.

The old WVU strikeout record of 16 was set by Paul Chuma against Bethany in 1959. In 35 2-1 innings, Radosevich, of Ronca, Pa., has given up just five earned runs for an average of 1.26. WVU is at Fairmont State College Friday before facing Southern Conference foe William & Mary in a doubleheader here Saturday. The Mountaineers are 9-1 in SC competition and seek to overtake first-place Virginia Tech (8-0).

Lions And Browns Pull Player Trade

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Lions, in an effort to shore up their sagging defensive line, traded fullback Ken Webb for Cleveland Browns defensive tackle Floyd Peters, it was announced Thursday.

Since the suspension for at least one full season of defensive tackle Alex Karras, the Lions have been faced with a gap in their defensive wall.
Peters is a five-year veteran with the National Football League. He will be 27 late this month. Webb has logged six seasons in the NFL and also is 27. The swap was a straight player deal.

Twins Trade Jack Kralick To Tribe For Jim Perry

Southpaw Swapped For Right Hand

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The Minnesota Twins Thursday traded big left-handed pitcher Jack Kralick to the Cleveland Indians for towering right-hander Jim Perry.

The Twins, top-heavy with southpaws and badly in need of another good right-hander, made the straight player deal in an effort to get balance in their start-rotation.

Kralick hurled a no-hit no-run game last Aug. 26 when he stopped the Kansas City Athletics 1-0. But he has won only one of five decisions so far this season and was shelved held by the Boston Red Sox.

His only win this season was a three-hit shutout over the Washington Senators.

In four seasons with Cleveland, Perry has won 52 games while losing 49, for an earned run average of 3.85. In 1960 he was voted the American League sophomore of the year and in 1961 he was named to the American League all-star squad for the first game but didn't play.

Unbeaten Bisons Top Hyndman, 16-5

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Woody Held blasted a grand slam home run Thursday as the Cleveland Indians beat the Kansas City Athletics 15-6 and knocked them out of first place in the American League.

Barry Latman, third Cleveland hurler, came on in the third inning and gave up only two hits, the rest of the way. Bill Bryan, rookie A's catcher, hit a home run in the eighth. It was his third circuit smash.

His fifth home run came in the sixth inning when the Indians sent 11 batters to the plate and scored six times. Vic Davallillo also hit a homer for Cleveland in the seventh.

Cleveland had compiled a 5-4 lead off starter and loser Dave Wicksham before they teed off in the sixth against Diego Segui. The defeat backed the Boston Red Sox, rained out at Minneapolis, into first place by six percentage points.

The victory enabled the Campers to tie Fort Hill and Mt. Savage for first place in the seven school circuit.

Vandenberg blanked the Explorers until the final stanza when Bobby Seibert singled with the bases loaded to give LaSalle its lone tally.

The Allegany southpaw issued seven bases on balls but in the fourth inning when LaSalle filled the bases Steve turned on the steam and fanned Talley, Neubeiser and Skidmore in succession.

Doug Shook sparked Allegany's 12-hit assault on Greg Skidmore, Larry Wolfe and Jim Brannon with a double and two singles for a perfect day at the plate. Dave Bruce collected two doubles and Bobby Lowe obtained two singles.

Tom Keyser accounted for two of LaSalle's four hits.

LaSalle had ten runners stranded on the bases.

Musial Equals Ruth's Record

Ties Doubles Mark In 4 To 3 Triumph

ST. LOUIS (AP) Stan Musial tied Babe Ruth's all-time extra-base hit record at 1,356 with a decisive, three-run double in the seventh inning Thursday night as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3.

Ray Washburn, the Cards' unbeaten right-hander, won his fifth straight although he was chased by Ron Santo's three-run homer with two out in the ninth.

Musial, who now holds or shares 42 National League and 15 major league records, tied the Babe's mark with a ringing, bases-loaded drive off the left center wall that broke open a duel between Washburn and ex-Cardinal Larry Jackson. It put the Cards in front 4-0 and enabled Washburn to stagger through to the victory.

Washburn, who had a no-hitter for six innings and a two-hitter going into the ninth, gave up a double to Ken Hubbs and an infield single to Billy Williams with two out. Santo promptly drove his third home run to the pavilion roof for three runs. Ed Bauta replaced Washburn and walked Ernie Banks before closing out the Cubs by getting Andre Rodgers on an infield grounder.

Dodgers End Loss Streak

Fairly's Home Run Sinks Phils, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ron Fairly's two-run homer with two out in the ninth inning gave Los Angeles a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night and ended the Dodgers' losing streak at four games.

Fairly's drive over the right field wall followed a pop fly single to left by Frank Howard that eluded three fielders.

Phils' starter Art Mahaffey allowed only five hits going into the ninth and held a 2-1 lead built on Wes Covington's two-run homer in the sixth off Don Drysdale.

Ron Perranoski, working in relief of starter Don Drysdale, got credit for the victory, his third against one defeat. The Phillies, who managed only four hits, lost their fourth straight.

Braves Blank Cincinnati, 8-0

Milwaukee's Hendley Tosses Three-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bob Hendley's three-hit pitching and Hank Aaron's eighth home run carried the Milwaukee Braves to an 8-0 victory over Cincinnati Thursday night.

Hendley, winning his third game in four decisions, gave up all three Reds' hits to Leo Cardenas, who collected two singles and a double. The Braves, meanwhile, pounded out 12 hits.

Aaron's home run in the fifth capped a three-run uprising against Joey Jay after he had retired the first two men.

Then Don Dillard singled and went all the way to third on a wild pitch. Gordy Coleman fumbled Norm Larker's line drive as Dillard scored. Aaron, who had struck out on his two previous trips to the plate, then followed with his homer.

Eddie Mathews, playing his first game for the Braves since a groin injury sidelined him Sunday, doubled in two runs in the seventh.

Jack Nicklaus Paces Champs' Golf Tourney

Posts Spectacular Opening Round 64

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus shot a record 8-under-par 64 Thursday to take the lead in the first round of golf $60,000 Tournament of Champions.

The 23-year-old National Open champion shot a spectacular 33-31-64 to set a record for the tournament and finished the round two strokes in front of the co-favorites, Arnold Palmer.

Play is at the par 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country Club.

Palmer finished first, holing a 35-foot putt on the 18th for a round of 34-32-66.

Nicklaus was still on the course. The two had been all even through 14 holes.

Nicklaus scored an eagle 3 on the 15th with a 45-foot putt to forge ahead.

The tournament record of 65 for one round is shared by Don January, Bill Casper Jr., Tom Nieporie and Palmer.

Palmer and Nicklaus were among the early finishers in the select field of 27 golfers.

In third place was dark horse Bill Collins with 34-33-67. Four were tied at 70—Bill Casper Jr., Johnny Pott and Doug Sanders.

South Africa's Gary Player, still not up to par following the removal of four wisdom teeth, again was putting poorly and took a 36-37-73.

Newlywed Tony Lema, second to Nicklaus in the recent Masters, had a 36-36-72 and a tie with veteran Ted Kroll.

Three-time winner Gene Littler had a 73 and a tie with four others.

Two foreign contestants were in the field. Bruce Crampton of Australia shot 38-35-73 and Al Johnston of Canada had 40-39-79.

EX-DODGERS NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets opened the 1963 season with seven former Dodgers on the roster. Manager Casey Stengel and coach Cookie Lavette also played with the Dodgers.

Hot Stove Changes Secretaries Sought
Grandpa At Dinner Fisher Embarrassed

By C. V. BURNS

THE HOT STOVE Baseball League, which will mark its 12th season, will operate in two divisions for the first time this year, according to Earl M. Nonnenmann, president.

Here are the teams, the divisions in which they will play, and their managers:

HOTS—B.P.O. Elks, Carl Phillips; B'nai B'rith, Raymond "Buck" Gephardt; Lions Club, John Daum; Kiwanis Club, Bert Lawler; Outdoor Club, Jim McGee.

STOVES—Cumberland Optimists, Cedric Miller and John Reynolds; Jaycees, Patsy Algeri; Rotary Club, Herman Snoots; Bedford Road Optimists, Bob Ziller; Salvation Army, Arthur DeLozier.

Each team will play 22 games, five less than last season, will meet the other four teams in the same division three times and play the five teams in the other division twice.

The top teams in each division will clash to determine the finalists for the inter-division playoffs for the league championship.

Boys who did not play in the Dapper Dan League must be cleared for the Hot Stove League through the City Recreation Department. The names then will be turned over to Howard L. "Farmer" Northcraft, player agent, who will assign the players to the various teams. All new boys coming into the Hot Stove League must attend school in Cumberland.

MARYLAND'S three half-mile thoroughbred tracks are searching for a new racing secretary following enforcement of a Maryland Racing Commission policy that precludes the return of J. Melvin Mackin to the post.

Mackin fell victim to the Commission rule that an official cannot serve as a racing secretary and a steward at tracks within the state.

As he is steward at the three major tracks, Mackin must give up his secretarial posts at Marlboro, Hagerstown and Timonium, the Commission ruled. But Melvin will come out even in the deal as he will now take over as one of the stewards at the minor tracks.

Mackin, who hails from Havre de Grace, has been secretary at the half-milers for two years. The Commission policy was relaxed last year to permit him to hold both jobs of racing secretary and steward because he was deemed one of the few men able to fill cards in the face of a shortage of horses.

We recall that in 1961, the last year of racing at Fairgo, Mackin did a fine job as racing secretary in spite of a shortage of thoroughbreds during the last half of the 12-day session here. Melvin was really "sweating it out" the last few days of that meeting but he managed to pull through O.K.

John P. Turner, Jr., or Joseph P. "Buddy" Brocator may replace Mackin at Marlboro but the Hagerstown and Timonium jobs are still open. Both Brocator and Turner have served as officials at Fairgo in past years.

AMONG those who attended the LaSalle High School Awards Dinner Wednesday evening was Joseph Nolan, of Mt. Savage, the grandfather of the LaSalle's basketball star of the same name.

Joe was considered one of the faster base runners in the Cumberland and George Creek section 40 years ago and we scored many a game in which he played.

In was in the 1919 county championship series between Cumberland and Midland that he was knocked unconscious when struck in the head by a wild throw while he was waiting in the on deck circle to take his turn at bat.

The Midland team was known as the Mighties in those days and beat Cumberland in the title series, three games to two. The fifth game went 13 innings to a 1-1 tie.

Twenty-seven batters struck out in the opening game which the Colts won 2-0. John "Lefty" Fike of Cumberland whiffed 16 and Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove of the Mighties fanned eleven. Charles "Lefty" Dye, of Barton, pitched Midland to a 3-1 triumph in the deciding game.

Leo "Toad" McNeil, who died recently, played with that Midland team. In fact, Leo played for many teams during his long sandlot career as a first baseman.

"They didn't come any nicer than Leo, he was a swell guy," Nolan said while admiring the Most Valuable Player trophy his grandson received at Wednesday's dinner.

ONE of the most embarrassing moments of his major league career came to Jack Fisher, the San Francisco Giants' pitcher, the other day.

He "singled" to right field against the Chicago Cubs and Lou Brock threw him out at first base.

Senators Whip Detroit, 9-4

DETROIT (AP)—Larry (Bob) Osborne clubbed two home runs against his old teammates as the Washington Senators went on a hitting rampage and defeated the Detroit Tigers 9-4 Thursday. It was the first time this season the last-place Senators won two games in a row.

The Nats collected 13 hits and broke up a tight game with a four-run rally in the seventh. Chuck Hinton and Chuck Cottier each drove in two runs in the big inning with singles.

Osborne, sold by Detroit to the Senators during spring training, hit his third homer of the season off loser Frank Lary in the fourth. It was a two-run drive that lifted Washington into a 3-0 lead. He belted his next one in the sixth off Bob Anderson.

Whitey Ford Turns Back Angels, 7-0

Pepitone Wallops Grand Slam Homer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) Joe Pepitone, currently the New York Yankees leading home run hitter, Thursday smashed his first major league grand slammer, and Whitey Ford hurled a fourth-hit shutout for a 7-0 win over the Los Angeles Angels.

The bases-loaded blow was Pepitone's fifth home run of the season. It came in the sixth inning after Angel starter Dean Chance loaded the bases and walked Mickey Mantle to force in one run.

Pepitone, successor to Bill Skowron as Yankee first baseman drilled a 1-2 pitch into the right field stands at the 380-foot mark.

The Yankee first baseman drove in his fifth run of the game in the seventh inning with a single scoring Mantle who had singled home Bobby Richardson.

Ford gave up only two singles until the ninth, when Albie Pearson singled and Billy Moran followed with his third hit. But Lee Thomas struck out to leave the runners stranded.

It was Ford's second straight win, and first complete game victory of the season. He struck out 10 men in his brilliant pitching exhibition.

Chance gave up only one hit in the first five innings, and infield single off his glove by Roger Maris, and allowed but three safeties including Pepitone's homer in the sixth. Two walks added to his downfall.

The victory was the first for the Yankees against the Angels who had won the two previous games of the series here.

SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

SINCE THE KENTUCKY DERBY began back in 1875, 973 horses have started and 88 have won. The entries represented 571 ownerships.

We're about to come up to the 89th Kentucky Derby May 4 and the lists will grow.

Back in 1875, when Aristides won the Derby, the value of what was to become the "Run for the Roses" was $1,000 added. The winner got $2,850 and the second horse, Volcano, picked up a mere $200. There were 42 nominations.

The Derby grew and grew as did racing everywhere. Today the Derby is $125,000 added, and even this doesn't match the money put up in some of the other big events, where the stakes value goes over $300,000.

WE HAVE to go back to 1946 for the first $100,000 Derby. Prior to that it was $75,000 added, which had been built up over the years from that original $1,000.

And we have to go back to 1954 for the first Derby in which the owner of the winning horse, Determine, picked up a $100,000 check. A. J. Crevolin's take that day was $102,050.

The biggest pot of gold in the whole history of the Derby went to the D. & H. Stable, in 1956, when Needles, the Florida-bred, won the Derby in a field of 17 and picked up $123,450 as top prize money.

Last year Decidedly won the race with 15 starters and the take for his owner was $119,650.

HERE'S THE WAY the Derby money is put together. The race, for three-year-olds, requires $100 in cash by subscription for nomination for both the Derby and the Derby Trial. All nomination fees go to the Derby winner.

Then it takes $250 to pass the entry box for the big race, and if the thoroughbred starts it requires another payment of $1,250. The track puts up $125,000 of which the winner is guaranteed $100,000. The second-place finisher gets $25,000, the third $12,500 and the fourth $5,000. Additionally a $5,000 gold cup goes to the winner. Last year there were 139 nominations for the Derby of which 15 actually started the race.

This year the Derby nominations totaled 129, and now are whittled down to a dozen or so with the definite starting field not known until the morning of the Derby.

The biggest field ever for the Derby was 22, in 1928. The smallest was in 1892 and 1905 when only three started. The largest list of nominees came in 1928 when 196 were named. The smallest was in 1913 when only 32 were nominated.

Cumberland, Barton Win In Twilight

Lonaconing, 13-2

The Cumberland Old Germans recorded their second straight victory of the season in the Twilight Baseball League yesterday when they turned back the Midland Old Exports, 1962 champions, at Municipal Athletic Field, by the score of 12-5.

Donnie Lewis scattered seven hits and struck out five Midland batters. He also led the locals' 12-hit assault with three hits. El Lambert rapped a two-run double. Galen McGregor collected a pair of singles. Bob Hook blasted a triple and Ronnie Cage banged a two-bagger. Leroy Morris and Fay Often smacked two-base hits for Midland.

Jim Winters went all the way for the Old Exports, fanned five and issued three passes.

Barton remained tied with Cumberland for the league leadership by scoring its second win at the expense of Gilmore in a game played at Gilmore. The score was 11-0.

Ellis Fazanbaker tossed a three-hitter while his mates jumped on Bob Wilson for a dozen safeties, including two-base wallop, and Maine had two for Keyser.

Some Eskimos believe the souls of the dead reincarnate themselves in newborn infants and protect the growing children from harm. When the child grows old enough to take care of himself, the spirit departs.

New York Mets Bomb Colts, 10-3

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets bombed Houston with 13 hits Thursday and won the first chapter of their 1963 battle of the cellar 10-3 before 2,020 chilled fans.

Charlie Neal's four straight singles led the Mets' attack that ended Don Nottebart's three-game winning streak.

Larry Burright, back in the lineup at second base because Ron Hunt suffered from a respiratory infection, drove in the first Met run with a triple in the second and knocked in two more with a double in the four-run seventh.

It was the first time the Mets had gone into double figures in scoring this season. The defeat shoved the Colts, who beat the Mets 13 out of 16 last year, deeper into the National League cellar.

Sprint Missile Power Is Job For Hercules

Winer To Direct Propulsion Design

The Martin Company has announced that Hercules Powder Company, Wilmington, Del., has been selected to provide the propulsion system for the Sprint missile.

Sprint, a high-acceleration missile which will be used in the Army's Nike X Ballistic Missile Defense System, has received the highest priority by Defense Department officials.

Richard Winer, former assistant manager at Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory, will direct the design work for the propulsion system.

The Army recently selected Martin as development contractor for the Sprint missile. Martin will join the Army's Nike X Development Team as a subcontractor to Bell Telephone Laboratories which has responsibility for system design and development. The Western Electric Company is the system prime contractor. Martin will do the Sprint work at its Orlando, Fla., plant.

Sprint, which is designed to intercept incoming missiles at low altitudes, will complement the Nike-Zeus missile in the Nike X anti-missile system.

Sprint is shorter than the 48-foot-long Nike Zeus and will be designed to reach altitude in less time than Zeus. Design of the Sprint requires a booster with acceleration characteristics.

Hercules, a pioneer in high thrust, solid-propellant motors, has developed high-performance motors for both Minuteman and Polaris weapons systems and has made many technological advances in propellant and case structural materials.

Art Exhibit To Be Placed In Windows

Downtown visitors will have the opportunity for the rest of May to see a cross section of the kinds of art experience enjoyed by children from the first through the 12th grade of public schools, according to Theodore P. Foote, county supervisor of art education.

The examples of art work will come from most of the schools of the county. They will be placed today in the windows of the Chamber of Commerce office at the corner of Baltimore and North Liberty streets today.

Mr. Foote will supervise the window decorations. He will be assisted by art students from Allegheny High School, Mrs. Linda C. Finn, art teacher at Fort Hill High School, and Mrs. Cecile H. Erickson, art teacher in elementary schools.

The exhibit will include examples of painting with crayons, tempera, charcoal, pencil, chalk, oils and watercolors. There also will be samples of silk screen painting, wire sculpting, wood sculpting and plaster sculpting.

Dr. Fridinger To Be Honored

A reception in honor of Dr. William T. Fridinger of Cumberland, outgoing president of the Maryland State Dental Association, will be one of the opening social events of the association's 80th annual convention which begins Saturday at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore.

Thomas B. Finan, Attorney General of Maryland, will be the principal speaker at a luncheon meeting and installation of new officers, Tuesday at noon, the concluding session of the convention.

The reception for Dr. Fridinger will precede a dinner and dance in the main ballroom. In the receiving line with Dr. and Mrs. Fridinger will be Dr. Samuel H. Bryant of Baltimore and incoming president, and Mrs. Bryant.

More than 500 dentists and their wives attending the convention will be guests at an old fashioned Maryland seafood party Sunday.

The Cumberland Fire Department has completed the installation of a new fire alarm box to serve the White Oaks area, Fire Chief Virgil Parker said yesterday.

He said the installation, to be known as Box 616, was placed at the intersection of White Oaks Avenue and Oldtown Road.

Since it is a master fire alarm box, it will allow stores in the shopping center to have fire alarm service if they wish to install auxiliary boxes.

About 100 alarm boxes are in service here, Chief Parker said.

Large Animal Sought Near Frostburg

A large, wild animal has been reported in the Frostburg area and persons who have seen it have equipped themselves with loaded rifles.

Tawes Expected To Veto Whisky Price Bill

Cites Opposition To Liquor Measure

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A controversial bill to allow fixing of minimum retail prices on whisky in Maryland appears headed for veto by Gov. Tawes.

Tawes expressed his views on the measure following a 2½ hour public hearing Thursday, and they all pointed toward rejection of the bill.

"We have been swamped with opposition to this bill," the governor told warring factions of the retail liquor industry and legislators who appeared at the hearing.

He said it far exceeded the mail of four years ago against a similar measure which he voted on grounds it was unconstitutional.

As an example, Tawes read a telegram from the United Auto Workers in Baltimore strongly urging his veto on grounds that workers would be deprived of buying a commodity in an open market.

"This is the kind of thing I can't turn a deaf ear to," he said to Herbert R. O'Connor Jr., his 1962 campaign manager who represented package store owners backing the bill as a curb on the cut-rate liquor market.

"These people have no interest in (retail) outlets," Tawes said. "Our decision will be based on the best interests of the public."

He never said directly that he would veto the bill but he left little doubt about his intentions among the some 100 persons who filled his large reception room for the hearing.

The small package goods dealers argued that big cut-rate concerns, which they said they outnumber 3,900 to 22, are disrupting the liquor market and threatening to drive main stores out of business with price cuts.

The bill would require whisky distillers to set minimum retail prices on their brands four times a year and post them with the state comptroller, whose office would be charged with enforcing the law. It would not apply to Maryland counties with county dispensary systems. The lack of such an exemption caused Tawes' veto in 1959.

Hyman A. Pressman, Baltimore attorney representing the larger dealers, called the bill "a price grab at the expense of the public." He said customers would go in droves to Washington, where some of them already go for cheaper buys, and that state and local governments would lose considerable tax revenue as a result.

Backers of the bill argued it would stabilize prices, rather than forcing them up, and actually bring about reductions in the long run. O'Connor said reductions made by distillers in April were not passed along to the customer but would have been required if the proposed law were in effect.

Pressman said the bill was sought by only one distiller, Seagram, which enforces its fair trade prices voluntarily against all dealers. He said the public interest in the legislature could not be properly represented when the chairman of the House Alcoholic Beverages Committee, Del. John F. McNulty, D. Anne Arundel, worked for Seagram.

McNulty heatedly interjected that he did not represent Seagram. He said he worked for McCarthy Hicks, a whisky distributor, but that he retired last November, a couple of months before he was appointed chairman of the house committee.

Service Set Sunday For Mr. Whitworth

A service for Horace P. Whitworth Sr., of Westernport, well-known Allegheny County attorney, who died yesterday at Winchester, (Va.) Memorial Hospital, will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church, Westernport. Rev. Robert Flottesmes, rector, will officiate and interment will be in Philo Cemetery, Westernport.

Mr. Whitworth was admitted to the Winchester Hospital 10 days ago for surgery. He was 81. Born in Westernport, the oldest of seven sons of the late Richard H. and Margaret (Pritchard) Whitworth, he was active in Republican politics and served as president of the GOP State Central Committee of Allegheny County in 1909.

Mr. Whitworth graduated from the University of Maryland Law School in 1904 and was one of the three honor men in his class. He became active in politics soon after returning home with his law degree and was elected to consecutive terms as mayor of Westernport in 1906, 1907 and 1908.

He ran unsuccessfully in 1909 as a candidate for state senator, being defeated by Frederick Zihlman in the Republican primary. Mr. Whitworth was appointed to the bench of the Fourth Judicial Circuit in 1921, succeeding Judge Robert R. Henderson, but was defeated for election to that post later that year by Judge Albert A. Doub. He lost the election by a single vote.

Mr. Whitworth was president of Citizens National Bank of Westernport, and counsel for the Potomac Light and Power Company. Until three years ago, he also was attorney for the Town of Westernport and the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. He was succeeded in those two posts by a son, Horace P. Whitworth Jr., the immediate past president of the Allegheny County Bar Association.

McGowan Taken To VA Center

Midland's town constable was found helpless at his home yesterday, apparently suffering from a stroke, after residents wondered why he did not turn up for his favorite duty — seeing that school children crossed the intersection of Routes 36 and 55 safely.

He is Charles L. McGowan, 49, who was found ill at home on O'Mara Avenue by Deputy Sheriff William E. "Scotty" Orr Jr., of Midland.

Later the World War II veteran was taken to the Martinsburg VA Center by the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Department ambulance.

Mr. Orr investigated yesterday morning after John E. Kesner, town clerk, wondered where "Chas" was, saying nobody remembered seeing the town official since he served as crossing guard at St. Joseph's School on Monday.

Mr. Orr said he found the constable after he entered the home, where Mr. McGowan lived alone, and found him lying on a cot in the kitchen.

Mr. McGowan, who spoke with difficulty, told Mr. Orr he couldn't move off the cot since his left side seemed to be paralyzed, and that he had nothing to eat or drink since Monday.

His spirits revived after Mrs. Orr brought him hot soup while a physician was summoned.

Arrangements for admission to the VA center were completed within a short time by Thomas J. Kilduff, field representative of the Maryland Veterans Commission.
